Part I: GRANT INFORMATION

Background on the Creative Youth Workforce Development Grant

As part of its American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) framework for Creative Youth Workforce Development, the City of Sacramento's Office of Arts and Culture (OAC) is launching its 2025-26 Creative Youth Workforce Development Grants. On February 15, 2022, City Council allocated $10 million and approved the ARPA framework and funding priorities for the Arts and Creative Economy. $1.25 million of these funds are for Creative Economy-focused youth workforce development.

To provide support for organizations with different levels of experience and capacity, two different grant categories will be offered and funding awarded to Sacramento-based nonprofit cultural organizations and for-profit creative businesses to create high impact training and work readiness experience for youth and young adults ages 16-24.

Grant Categories

- Creative Youth Workforce Pilot Grants Up to seven grants of $75,000 each will be awarded to organizations with some level of experience in youth workforce training who are piloting a more formal creative youth workforce program.
- Creative Youth Workforce Program Grants Up to three grants of $220,000 each will be awarded to organizations with a strong existing youth workforce development program that they are planning to scale and will be sustainable after the end of the grant period.

Grant Program Overview

OAC will provide grants for programs that provide youth workforce readiness, training, apprenticeship or pre-apprenticeship opportunities, skills development, placement services and/or coaching and mentoring in the creative economy.

Grants must be dedicated towards creative economy subsectors that represent high growth potential and/or reflect Sacramento's unique strengths and industry opportunities.

The grant awards will aid communities that sustained negative impacts due to COVID-19. Programs must be designed to provide services to youth in the US HUD qualified census tracts, US HUD adjacent and/or the Sacramento Opportunity Zone.

THE OBJECTIVES of the Creative Youth Workforce Development program are to:

- Invest in the development and expansion of high-quality programs offered by organizations that can demonstrate significant experience, industry connections and student placement rates in high potential areas of the creative economy.
- Invest in the broader ecosystem of service providers who offer exposure to creative industries employment opportunities.
- Provide productive opportunities for youth engagement and create pathways to future employment opportunities in growing industries.

To be eligible for a Creative Youth Workforce Development grant, an Applicant must submit a grant application outlining how the Applicant will use the funding to implement youth and young adult training and internship programs in one of the four priority areas listed below. Applicants may be non-profit organizations or creative businesses that are ready to administer pathway internships, apprenticeships, pre-apprenticeships, and training for a minimum of five (5) youth and young adults for $75,000 pilot grants or a minimum of twelve (12) youth and young adults for $220,000 grants.

Priority Pathways

In 2023, OAC commissioned a report on high-growth potential subsectors of the creative economy, tailored to Sacramento's diverse creative economy strengths. Broadly, this study identified four pathways to be cultivated and that would provide opportunities in training and development for our workforce. Before applying, applicants are encouraged to review the report, Sprout to Growth: Potential Pathways for Growing Sacramento's Creative Economy.

Creative businesses and organizations in the following creative fields that are piloting or growing youth workforce programs are encouraged to apply:

- Media Production – production of traditional, digital, and experiential media, including long and shortform film/video content, video games, extended reality, and music production.
- Design – micro-customized design, including specialties in fashion, interior, sustainable, and industrial design and innovation.
- Experience Creation – creativity in the fields of hospitality/event technology and music festivals.

- Civic Innovation – innovation in civic life, including architecture, public service infrastructure, planning, health technology, and educational technology.

Professional pathways in these fields include:

- Motion picture & video production
- Fashion design and production
- Industrial and sustainable design
- Visual effects and animation
- AR/VR & immersive experiences
- Game design

Grant Amounts
