Argument in Favor of Measure Sacramento Public Library Combined Parcel Tax:

Vote yes on Measure E to keep our libraries open five days a week as they are now—without increasing taxes.

Measure E will not increase taxes. It simply renews the existing current funding for our 12 city libraries.

Yearly independent audits will ensure that the money raised will only be used for Sacramento city libraries.

Vote yes on Measure E to maintain the library’s after school homework and reading programs for children and story time for preschoolers. Vote yes to provide a safe space for teens and seniors, and library services for people of all ages. Vote yes to ensure libraries are accessible to those with disabilities. Vote yes so that our libraries have digital technology for those, including children, who don’t have access to computers and the internet at home.

Vote yes to keep libraries open five days a week and provide 24/7 online access to library resources.

Vote yes to preserve library services that help people find jobs and access community services.

Libraries are one of the few places that benefit all of us, including children, teens, and seniors. They are places to study, learn and gather. Our 12 city libraries improve the quality of life in our neighborhoods and are an essential resource for our community.

Sacramento residents need and deserve modern libraries. Our libraries offer a safe place for children to learn and study, and they provide information and enrichment for people of all ages. To keep our libraries open five days a week, maintain online access, quality books and library materials, children’s programs and more, vote yes on Measure E.
