REPORT # 94-45406

VICTIM: ELLSWORTH, Marco

NARRATIVE SECTION

STATEMENT OF: [REDACTED]

At approximately 1230 hours, 8-18-96, I contacted the above subject, [REDACTED] by telephone at her place of residency, which is located in [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] had called earlier and left a message that she had received my letter asking her to contact me regarding a Discover card that possibly belonged to her, and located in 1994.

Upon speaking with [REDACTED] she stated that she did have a Discover credit card and that she remembers it coming up missing sometime around Memorial Day weekend in 1994. She stated she realized something was wrong regarding her credit card when she received her statement and found that there were three unauthorized charges on it, all located up in the Sacramento area.

[REDACTED] stated that she contacted Discover and advised them that she wasn't sure how she misplaced her card or dropped it or somehow someone got it from her, but she stated when she saw this statement and the unauthorized charges, she knew that somehow her card had gotten into the hands of someone else.

[REDACTED] stated she waited for Discover to call her and follow up with what they had found out about the card being used up in the Sacramento area; however, [REDACTED] stated that she had never been recontacted by Discover and told whatever happened. [REDACTED] stated she didn't know what the disposition was on her card until she received my letter asking her to contact me.

[REDACTED] reiterated in closing that she is not sure how the card turned up in someone else's possession. [REDACTED] stated it's possible that she had dropped it or it fell out of her purse, but she cannot say how the card ever got into the hands of another person. [REDACTED] stated that she would fax me a copy of the statement that she has showing the unauthorized charges that were made at the end of May. I thanked [REDACTED] for her cooperation in this matter, and advised her if I had any further questions, that I would recontact her.

Re: Officer-Involved Shooting (94-45406, etc.)
SPD Officer Richard LaPorta (#440)
Victim Marco Ellsworth

Dear Lt. Enloe:

Reports concerning this matter were brought to our office by Det. Cabrera on June 21. I have now completed my review of the written reports, photographs, video and audio tapes. Additionally, I considered a report prepared by District Attorney Investigator Bill Muir who visited the scene of the shooting a couple of hours afterward and who monitored the interview of Officer LaPorta. I also received the toxicology test results and autopsy report. I am satisfied that I have been provided sufficient information to make a decision.

In this situation, Officer LaPorta observed Marco Ellsworth make an illegal turn at 29th Street and Meadowview in Sacramento. Ellsworth did not immediately comply with Officer LaPorta's attempt to pull him over, instead driving on several blocks before finally coming to a stop. As Officer LaPorta approached Ellsworth on foot, Ellsworth was revving his engine and doing something to the right side of the steering column. Before Officer LaPorta could make verbal contact, Ellsworth drove away.

Officer LaPorta, joined by other police officers, then engaged Ellsworth in a high speed pursuit with red lights and siren. Ellsworth drove with extreme recklessness, endangering many citizens by running stop signs and driving at high speeds in oncoming traffic lanes. Ellsworth was eventually overtaken when he drove onto a lawn in a residential area.

Despite Officer LaPorta's attempt to pin Ellsworth in his own car by stopping his patrol vehicle next to the driver-side door, Ellsworth managed to get out and go back to the open trunk of his car where he appeared to be looking for something as he rummaged through the contents. Officer LaPorta believed Ellsworth was looking for a weapon so he grabbed Ellsworth by the left arm.

Officer LaPorta told Ellsworth he was under arrest and commanded him to stop, but Ellsworth continued to violently resist and rummage through the contents of the trunk. Officer LaPorta became convinced that Ellsworth was going for a gun, and began to strike him with his flashlight. Ellsworth then turned away from the trunk and struck LaPorta in the face, grabbed ahold of him, partly lifted and kicked him, and then grabbed the flashlight. Officer LaPorta and Ellsworth struggled briefly over the flashlight, and then Ellsworth broke free. As he ran, he dropped the flashlight.

Officer LaPorta chased Ellsworth around the corner and across a lawn. He repeatedly yelled at Ellsworth to stop and give up. Ellsworth yelled back words to the effect of "Leave me alone, cop, or I'll kill you." Ellsworth was running in a manner that suggested to Officer LaPorta that he was holding something -- possibly a weapon -- in his right hand. At that point, Officer LaPorta intended to maintain visual contact with Ellsworth until assistance arrived and possibly to use his OC gas if he got close enough to Ellsworth.

Ellsworth stumbled and fell. While still on the ground, he spun around in a seated position, drawing his knees toward his body and holding his arms outstretched as though pointing a gun at Officer LaPorta who by that time had closed within five feet of Ellsworth. Thinking that Ellsworth was about to shoot him, Officer LaPorta drew his own weapon while yelling at Ellsworth to drop the gun at the same time as he moved to his right to evade a possible shot by Ellsworth.

Ellsworth appeared to "track" Officer LaPorta as he moved to his right, so Officer LaPorta fired nine rounds directly at Ellsworth. Officer LaPorta said he did so in self-defense, in order to avoid being shot and killed himself.

Ellsworth was struck by nine bullets. One was a grazing wound on the right side of Ellsworth's upper abdomen. Five entry wounds were observed between the hip and shoulder on Ellsworth's left torso. There was a single entry wound on the right side with an exit in the chest area, an entry wound on the left back and another on the left buttocks. Toxicology tests revealed that Ellsworth had .19 mg/l of methamphetamine in his blood.

No weapon was found on or about Ellsworth after the shooting. During the high speed car chase, the trunk of Ellsworth's car was flapping open. It is not known whether a gun may have fallen out of the trunk during that time.

Approximately one-half pound of suspected methamphetamine (Valtox test positive) was located in a search of Ellsworth's trunk.

June 28, 1994

There were no third-party eyewitnesses to the shooting itself. A neighbor, [REDACTED] heard someone yelling, "Stop or I'll shoot you." She also believes she heard someone yell "Drop it." immediately before she heard gunshots. Another neighbor, [REDACTED] heard sirens as police arrived at the scene. From inside his bedroom, he heard the suspect yell "I'm going to shoot" and Officer LaPorta yell several times, "Stop, stop" followed by gunshots. Yet another neighbor, [REDACTED] said he heard someone yelling something like "Stop it" or "Drop it" followed by gunshots.

[REDACTED] was a passenger in Ellsworth's car during the police pursuit. Except for asking Ellsworth to stop and let him out, he denied any conversation with Ellsworth during the chase. He said he assumed Ellsworth did not want to stop because he may have thought he had warrants out for his arrest. When Ellsworth finally stopped the car, [REDACTED] jumped out the passenger side and was apprehended hiding in a garbage can some time later. [REDACTED] did not see the shooting.

Analysis and Conclusion

Officer LaPorta was justified in attempting to detain Ellsworth after having observed Ellsworth's traffic violation. He was also legally justified in pursuing Ellsworth when Ellsworth attempted to flee. The manner in which the pursuit was carried out, while it may or may not raise a question in terms of police department pursuit policy, is nonetheless not a factor in determining the lawfulness of Officer LaPorta's decision to shoot.

California law permits the use of deadly force in self-defense if it reasonably appears that the person claiming the right of self-defense actually and reasonably believed he was in imminent danger of great bodily injury or death. Where peril is extreme and imminent and the necessity for action immediate, the law does not become overly precise in evaluating the conduct of the person assailed and say he is not justified in killing because he might have resorted to other means to secure his safety.

The circumstances confronting Officer LaPorta clearly justify his use of deadly force. He had ample grounds to believe Ellsworth was armed and would attempt to kill him.

The fact that Ellsworth was not in fact armed with a deadly weapon at the time he was shot does not determine the outcome of this review. Officer LaPorta was entitled to rely on appearances. He reasonably believed that Ellsworth may have armed himself when he rummaged around in his car's trunk prior to fleeing on foot. The way Ellsworth carried his right arm close to his body as he ran also suggested he was carrying something, if not a weapon, in his right hand. Witnesses who heard Officer LaPorta yell something like "Drop it" corroborate the conclusion that Officer LaPorta honestly believed Ellsworth was armed.

Officer LaPorta stated that after Ellsworth fell, Ellsworth spun around into a shooting position while seated. There is no reason to doubt that assertion by Officer LaPorta. Ellsworth had been extremely reckless during the vehicle pursuit. He physically assaulted Officer LaPorta when LaPorta grabbed his arm to detain him at the trunk of his car. The entire course of his conduct shows that he desperately wanted to evade apprehension and would resort to any means to succeed. Coincidentally, his conduct is consistent with what I know about persons under the influence of methamphetamine, as Ellsworth was.

Also, I note that Ellsworth's rap sheet shows (among numerous entries including two commitments to state prison) an arrest for battery on a peace officer which resulted in a misdemeanor conviction for obstructing a peace officer, and two other arrests for obstructing a peace officer, one of which resulted in a conviction. Another entry shows an arrest for felony assault. These rap sheet entries support the conclusion that Ellsworth was an assaultive individual with an antipathy to police officers. The entries thus tend to corroborate Officer LaPorta's account of what happened immediately prior to the shooting.

Lastly, the location of the bullet wounds to Ellsworth's body are consistent with Officer LaPorta's account of the incident. LaPorta was moving to his right as he fired his weapon in order to avoid being shot himself. He therefore was moving to Ellsworth's left. Two wounds were on Ellsworth's front side and the majority of the wounds were on his left torso. Two were on his back; those are consistent with the turning of his body in the course of the shooting itself.

In conclusion, I find that this shooting was justified. Accordingly, the District Attorney's Office will take no further action. Thank you for referring the matter for review.

Very truly yours,

STEVE WHITE

Re: Officer-Involved Shooting (94-45406, etc.)
SPD Officer Richard LaPorta (#440)
Victim Marco Ellsworth

Dear Lt. Enloe:

Reports concerning this matter were brought to our office by Det. Cabrera on June 21. I have now completed my review of the written reports, photographs, video and audio tapes. Additionally, I considered a report prepared by District Attorney Investigator Bill Muir who visited the scene of the shooting a couple of hours afterward and who monitored the interview of Officer LaPorta. I also received the toxicology test results and autopsy report. I am satisfied that I have been provided sufficient information to make a decision.

In this situation, Officer LaPorta observed Marco Ellsworth make an illegal turn at 29th Street and Meadowview in Sacramento. Ellsworth did not immediately comply with Officer LaPorta's attempt to pull him over, instead driving on several blocks before finally coming to a stop. As Officer LaPorta approached Ellsworth on foot, Ellsworth was revving his engine and doing something to the right side of the steering column. Before Officer LaPorta could make verbal contact, Ellsworth drove away.

Officer LaPorta, joined by other police officers, then engaged Ellsworth in a high speed pursuit with red lights and siren. Ellsworth drove with extreme recklessness, endangering many citizens by running stop signs and driving at high speeds in oncoming traffic lanes. Ellsworth was eventually overtaken when he drove onto a lawn in a residential area.

Despite Officer LaPorta's attempt to pin Ellsworth in his own car by stopping his patrol vehicle next to the driver-side door, Ellsworth managed to get out and get back to the open trunk of his car where he appeared to be looking for something as he rummaged through the contents. Officer LaPorta believed Ellsworth was looking for a weapon so he grabbed Ellsworth by the left arm.

Officer LaPorta told Ellsworth he was under arrest and commanded him to stop, but Ellsworth continued to violently resist and rummage through the contents of the trunk. Officer LaPorta became convinced that Ellsworth was going for a gun, and began to strike him with his flashlight. Ellsworth then turned away from the trunk and struck LaPorta in the face, grabbed ahold of him, partly lifted and kicked him, and then grabbed the flashlight. Officer LaPorta and Ellsworth struggled briefly over the flashlight, and then Ellsworth broke free. As he ran, he dropped the flashlight.

Officer LaPorta chased Ellsworth around the corner and across a lawn. He repeatedly yelled at Ellsworth to stop and give up. Ellsworth yelled back words to the effect of "Leave me alone, cop, or I'll kill you." Ellsworth was running in a manner that suggested to Officer LaPorta that he was holding something -- possibly a weapon -- in his right hand. At that point, Officer LaPorta intended to maintain visual contact with Ellsworth until assistance arrived and possibly to use his OC gas if he got close enough to Ellsworth.

Ellsworth stumbled and fell. While still on the ground, he spun around in a seated position, drawing his knees toward his body and holding his arms outstretched as though pointing a gun at Officer LaPorta who by that time had closed within five feet of Ellsworth. Thinking that Ellsworth was about to shoot him, Officer LaPorta drew his own weapon while yelling at Ellsworth to drop the gun at the same time as he moved to his right to evade a possible shot by Ellsworth.

Ellsworth appeared to "track" Officer LaPorta as he moved to his right, so Officer LaPorta fired nine rounds directly at Ellsworth. Officer LaPorta said he did so in self-defense, in order to avoid being shot and killed himself.

Ellsworth was struck by nine bullets. One was a grazing wound on the right side of Ellsworth's upper abdomen. Five entry wounds were observed between the hip and shoulder on Ellsworth's left torso. There was a single entry wound on the right side with an exit in the chest area, an entry wound on the left back and another on the left buttocks. Toxicology tests revealed that Ellsworth had .19 mg/l of methamphetamine in his blood.

No weapon was found on or about Ellsworth after the shooting. During the high speed car chase, the trunk of Ellsworth's car was flapping open. It is not known whether a gun may have fallen out of the trunk during that time.

Approximately one-half pound of suspected methamphetamine (Valtox test positive) was located in a search of Ellsworth's trunk.

There were no third-party eyewitnesses to the shooting itself. A neighbor, [REDACTED] heard someone yelling, "Stop or I'll shoot you." She also believes she heard someone yell "Drop it." immediately before she heard gunshots. Another neighbor, [REDACTED] heard sirens as police arrived at the scene. From inside his bedroom, he heard the suspect yell "I'm going to shoot" and Officer LaPorta yell several times, "Stop, stop" followed by gunshots. Yet another neighbor, [REDACTED] said he heard someone yelling something like "Stop it" or "Drop it" followed by gunshots.

[REDACTED] was a passenger in Ellsworth's car during the police pursuit. Except for asking Ellsworth to stop and let him out, he denied any conversation with Ellsworth during the chase. He said he assumed Ellsworth did not want to stop because he may have thought he had warrants out for his arrest. When Ellsworth finally stopped the car, [REDACTED] jumped out the passenger side and was apprehended hiding in a garbage can some time later. [REDACTED] did not see the shooting.

Analysis and Conclusion

Officer LaPorta was justified in attempting to detain Ellsworth after having observed Ellsworth's traffic violation. He was also legally justified in pursuing Ellsworth when Ellsworth attempted to flee. The manner in which the pursuit was carried out, while it may or may not raise a question in terms of police department pursuit policy, is nonetheless not a factor in determining the lawfulness of Officer LaPorta's decision to shoot.

California law permits the use of deadly force in self-defense if it reasonably appears that the person claiming the right of self-defense actually and reasonably believed he was in imminent danger of great bodily injury or death. Where peril is extreme and imminent and the necessity for action immediate, the law does not become overly precise in evaluating the conduct of the person assailed and say he is not justified in killing because he might have resorted to other means to secure his safety.

The circumstances confronting Officer LaPorta clearly justify his use of deadly force. He had ample grounds to believe Ellsworth was armed and would attempt to kill him.

The fact that Ellsworth was not in fact armed with a deadly weapon at the time he was shot does not determine the outcome of this review. Officer LaPorta was entitled to rely on appearances. He reasonably believed that Ellsworth may have armed himself when he rummaged around in his car's trunk prior to fleeing on foot. The way Ellsworth carried his right arm close to his body as he ran also suggested he was carrying something, if not a weapon, in his right hand. Witnesses who heard Officer LaPorta yell something like "Drop it" corroborate the conclusion that Officer LaPorta honestly believed Ellsworth was armed.

Officer LaPorta stated that after Ellsworth fell, Ellsworth spun around into a shooting position while seated. There is no reason to doubt that assertion by Officer LaPorta. Ellsworth had been extremely reckless during the vehicle pursuit. He physically assaulted Officer LaPorta when LaPorta grabbed his arm to detain him at the trunk of his car. The entire course of his conduct shows that he desperately wanted to evade apprehension and would resort to any means to succeed. Coincidentally, his conduct is consistent with what I know about persons under the influence of methamphetamine, as Ellsworth was.

Also, I note that Ellsworth's rap sheet shows (among numerous entries including two commitments to state prison) an arrest for battery on a peace officer which resulted in a misdemeanor conviction for obstructing a peace officer, and two other arrests for obstructing a peace officer, one of which resulted in a conviction. Another entry shows an arrest for felony assault. These rap sheet entries support the conclusion that Ellsworth was an assaultive individual with an antipathy to police officers. The entries thus tend to corroborate Officer LaPorta's account of what happened immediately prior to the shooting.

Lastly, the location of the bullet wounds to Ellsworth's body are consistent with Officer LaPorta's account of the incident. LaPorta was moving to his right as he fired his weapon in order to avoid being shot himself. He therefore was moving to Ellsworth's left. Two wounds were on Ellsworth's front side and the majority of the wounds were on his left torso. Two were on his back; those are consistent with the turning of his body in the course of the shooting itself.

In conclusion, I find that this shooting was justified. Accordingly, the District Attorney's Office will take no further action. Thank you for referring the matter for review.

Very truly yours,

STEVE WHITE

VICTIM: ELLSWORTH, Marcos

NARRATIVE SECTION

CRIME SCENE SUMMARY:

At approximately 0035 hours, 6/2/94. I received a telephone call from the Sacramento Police Department's Communication Dispatch that I was requested to respond to Buoy Way in regards to an officer involved shooting. I arrived at the scene at approximately 0105 hours.

At the scene, I contacted Detective Sgt. Bob Mitchell, Supervisor in the Homicide Unit and shortly thereafter contacted Lt. Joe Enloe who is the Homicide Unit Commander.

I observed that the street at the corner of Ebbtide and Buoy had been cordoned off with a yellow police ribbon preventing any unauthorized vehicles or personnel from entering. I also observed the corner of Northshore and Buoy Way to also be cordoned off with a yellow police ribbon. There were numerous uniformed police officers at the scene. I am advised that the victim of the shooting has been removed via ambulance to the UC Medical Center prior to my arrival.

WEATHER: Cool/clear.

LIGHTING: Minimal street lights, porch lights and quarter moon in the northern sky.

LOCATION OF AREA:

Buoy Way is located in a residential area known as Greenhaven which is situated in the southwest corner within the confines of the city limits. This area is also known as the Pocket Area. There is observed very little civilian traffic out on the roadway at this particular time of the morning; however, there are bystanders observed around the area which has been cordoned off by police ribbon. There is also observed news media cameras and personnel.

Buoy Way is located running a east/west direction between Riverside Blvd. and Northshore Way. An adjacent street known as Ebbtide is a small cul-de-sac which runs in a northern direction.

Ebbtide, in which is the area where police officers pursued the suspect vehicle, is lined with several houses. The majority of these houses do not have front porch lights on. There is a light standard located toward the end of the street on the east side of Ebbtide, south of the address [REDACTED]

Located on the front lawn of address [REDACTED] is a blue Oldsmobile Ciera with it's rear trunk open. The vehicle is observed to have a [REDACTED] license plate number of [REDACTED]. Located on the north side of the suspect vehicle is a marked police vehicle which is black and white in color and has an equipment number of 7228S. This vehicle has overhead emergency lights and is clearly marked police on it. Located next to the passenger door on the grassy area of the suspect vehicle is a pair of rubber sandals. Located to the rear of the vehicle below the trunk area on the ground is a beige colored leather jacket. The trunk is open exposing it's contents which are observed to be miscellaneous papers, a tire jack and jack handle, a black leather type jacket, a paper box with items inside and a manila envelope folded with a green rubber band around it. A brief look through the ruffled papers that were in pile, I observed another manila envelope with unknown contents. None of the items inside this trunk are touched as to pursue the possibility of obtaining any fingerprints at a later date if necessary. No firearms are observed, at this time, in the rear trunk area. Located south of the vehicle on the walkway of the residence is a baseball type cap, dark blue in color with the letter M on the front. Also observed next to the pair of sandals on the grass next to the passenger side, is the light portion or head of a flashlight. Located further south of the vehicle, between the driveway and light standard in a rocky area, is the body portion of the flashlight which houses the batteries.

Located in the street on Ebbtide, facing in a northern direction, is another marked police unit, equipment number 7259. This vehicle is observed to have overhead emergency lights, black and white in color and clearly marked with police decals on it. The two aforementioned marked police units were equipment that was used by the pursuing officers involved with the suspects.

A brief observation inside of the suspect vehicle without entering it, shows that the glove box is open and there is a white button located on the glove box, which appears to be a trunk release. There are also other miscellaneous items lying about, as well as another baseball cap on the rear floorboard and what appears to be a pillow of some sort. The vehicle is impounded and will be towed and stored until a later date when a full examination of it's contents can be made on the basis of a search warrant or consent.

At the southeast corner of Ebbtide and Buoy Way is another light standard. This light standard and yet another light standard at the southwest corner of Northshore Way and Buoy are the only light standards that are in the area in which the shooting occurred. The light standard at Ebbtide and Buoy is approximately one hundred and twenty-five feet from where the shooting occurred. The light standard at the southwest corner of Northshore and Buoy is approximately one hundred feet southeast of the shooting scene. The shooting scene is located on Buoy Way just west of the northwest corner of Northshore and Buoy Way. There is a fence approximately six feet in height that cordons off the rear yard of the residence located at the northeast corner of Ebttide and Buoy Way. The fence runs along Buoy Way for some distance and then goes back up to the residence encompassing a backyard area for address [REDACTED] Buoy Way.

The lighting where the shooting took place is very dim in nature. The only porch lights observed in the immediate area on residences are located at addresses [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] Buoy Way. A city fire truck with special lighting is on the scene to illuminate the area to check and locate any evidence connected to the shooting. This city fire equipment truck is observed with equipment number 4607. The operator of this vehicle is Ed Escobar, badge 565. Escobar had his light trained on the shooting site so that the street and surrounding area can be illuminated to search for evidence. Observed on the sidewalk next to the fence line described earlier, just west of Northshore Drive on the north side of Buoy Way is a moderate amount of what appears to be coagulated blood. Also observed in the area surrounding this particular site are 9mm brass expended casings which number nine in quantity.

There is also observed yellow chalk marks on the sidewalk area in the gutter area around the scene, showing where the officer had stood when he made contact with the suspect, in which led to the officer discharging his weapon into the suspect. The lawn area is checked by hand and flashlight for any projectiles that might have been left behind.

CSI Officers are advised to photograph all pieces of evidence and collect it and to diagram the scenes in which evidence and/or items of importance are located. CSI Officers are also advised to book any evidence they secure into police Property.

The suspect's vehicle is impounded by Shanahan's Tow Service. The report number for that particular impound is 94-45397. It should be noted that the vehicle has some damage to the area on the passenger side on both doors near the bottom of the vehicle, as if it had struck something, denting the metal body on both doors. Uniformed officers have also canvassed the neighborhood to ascertain if there were any witnesses to the incident, whether visual observations or anything they might have heard. Further canvassing will be conducted in a follow-up in the days ahead if necessary.

A video tape was made of the crime scene and will be booked into police Property for evidence. The suspect's path was searched for any dropped or discarded evidence with negative results.

DETECTIVE'S ACTIVITIES (DETECTIVE OVERTON):

On 6/2/94 at 0040 hours, Detective Overton received a telephone call at his residence from Sacramento Police Dispatcher Pettengell. Pettengell stated that there was an officer involved shooting at Buoy Way and Northshore. Per Detective Sgt. Mitchell, Detective Overton was directed to respond to the scene to assist in the investigation.

Detective Overton initially responded to the Sacramento Police Department in order to obtain a Detective's vehicle and his equipment. Detective Overton then responded to the scene, marking arrival at approximately 0125 hours.

Upon arrival, Detective Overton met with Sgt. Mitchell, who subsequently directed Detective Overton to assist transporting Officers La Porta and Young to the Sacramento Police Department and then take their statements. Officer Young rode with Detective Overton in Detective Overton's vehicle, while Sgt. Jorgenson (SPOA President) transported Officer La Porta to the Sacramento Police Department.

At 0300 hours, Detective Overton asked Officer La Porta to relinquish his firearm. Officer La Porta then handed Detective Overton his Sig-Sauer P226, 9mm handgun, serial number [REDACTED]. Detective Overton rendered the handgun safe, noting that there was one live Winchester 9mm Luger, silver tipped hollow point bullet in the chamber of the handgun and six live similar bullets in the magazine. The magazine had a piece of blue tape on the butt plate with the number 440 (badge number of Officer La Porta). Detective Overton then checked Officer La Porta's two remaining magazines and determined that both magazines had a full load of fifteen rounds apiece. Officer La Porta stated that he never reloaded his handgun.

DETECTIVE'S ACTIVITIES:

At 0315 hours, Detective Overton led La Porta into interviewing room #5 located in the Homicide Unit. An audio and video recorder was activated and Detective Overton obtained La Porta's contained statement in the presence of SPOA Attorney Kasey Christopher Clark of Mastagni, Holstedt and Chiurazzi, 1912 I Street, Suite 104, 446-4692. At the conclusion of interviewing Officer La Porta, Detective Overton had La Porta view a black and white photograph of the deceased (Ellsworth, Marco). The photograph did not bear Ellsworth's name and La Porta stated that the photograph looks a lot like the suspect but that he did not see the suspect that well. La Porta was instructed to sign the back of the photograph which he printed his name and his badge number.

Detective Overton ran a series of computer checks on the passenger suspect of this incident, identifying him as [REDACTED] (male Hispanic adult, DOB [REDACTED] X-ref number [REDACTED] Detective Overton also took a polaroid photograph of [REDACTED] for future reference.

6/2/94 0630 hours.

On 6/2/94 at 0100 hours, I received a call from Sac. P.D. Communications. They advised that there had been an officer involved shooting and that Homicide Sgt. B. Mitchell had requested that I respond to the Hall of Justice.

I marked arrival at the Hall of Justice at 0140 hours and contacted Sgt. B. Mitchell who advised me to stand by at the Hall of Justice as witnesses were en route.

At 0215 hours, I conducted the interview with Officer Joseph Young and then a subsequent interview with witness [REDACTED] who was the passenger in the suspect vehicle.

Photographs were taken of Officer Young in his uniform shortly after our interview.

Photographs were also taken of [REDACTED], documenting what appeared to be very fresh scratches upon his chest and forearm area.

All interviews were both audio and video taped but it should be noted that on the interview with Officer Young, the audio tape cassette was malfunctioning for approximately the first six minutes into the interview. The tape counter indicated 44 and we timed it and it was timed at approximately six minutes before the tape started to function properly. Although the audio cassette was malfunctioning, the video functioned efficiently.

[REDACTED] was released after our interview and the eighty dollars (four twenty dollar bills) that had been taken from him

STATEMENT OF OFFICER:

OFFICER JOSEPH GRANT YOUNG, JR.
Badge #0728

6/2/94, 0315 hours.

On 6/2/94 at 0215 hours, I interviewed Officer Joseph Young here at the Hall of Justice regarding this investigation. Officer Young had been one of two officers involved in a pursuit which resulted in an officer involved shooting. The following is a summary of this interview.

Officer Young advised that he is a nine and a half year veteran patrol officer currently assigned to graveyard watch, South Area. He was working on this evening's date in 1AL25 which is the Valley Hi Area. Officer Young advised that this is a one man unit. He was in a marked vehicle and was in full uniform.

Officer Young advised that moments prior to his involvement in this pursuit, he had been at the AM/PM Market at Florin and 25th, waiting to meet with Officer La Porta when he heard Officer La Porta put himself out on a vehicle stop. (Officer La Porta is unit 1AL24.)

Officer Young advised that moments after Officer La Porta had put himself out, he (La Porta) advised that he was in pursuit. Officer Young stated that he began rolling in the direction that Officer La Porta had put himself out.

Officer Young advised that he then heard Officer La Porta say that he had lost the suspect vehicle.

Officer Young stated that while at 29th Street north of Meadowview near an elementary school, he observed a vehicle blacked out, heading northbound 29th Street in excess of 90 MPH. He then heard Officer Young stated that he initiated pursuit with red lights and siren in his marked black and white vehicle, at this time. Officer Young identified himself now as the primary pursuit officer with Officer La Porta the #2 vehicle putting out the pursuit.

Officer Young advised that he observed the suspect vehicle to be blacked out with two male occupants. He observed that the vehicle had damage to the right front fender and that the trunk of the vehicle was open. Officer Young stated that the vehicle was driving in excess of 90 MPH as it was driving northbound 29th Street, passing him. He observed items being bounced out of the suspect vehicle at this time but does not recall putting that information out on the air.

Officer Young advised that he was directly behind the suspect vehicle and they went into a residential area but he could not be certain of the street specifically. He stated that they went around this residential area approximately two to three times in speeds of excess of 70 MPH. He observed the suspect vehicle still to be blacked out and driving very erratically, swerving from the street onto the sidewalks hitting multiple trash cans along the way. Officer Young stated that at no time did his vehicle ever strike any vehicles or garbage cans during this pursuit.

Officer Young stated that the suspect vehicle reached the intersection of Loma Verde and Florin Rd. and proceeded westbound. Officer Young advised that he was still in pursuit as the primary vehicle with red lights and siren initiated and Officer La Porta is still putting out the pursuit. They proceeded westbound on Florin Rd. until they reached Riverside Blvd. and proceeded due south on Riverside Blvd. To the best of Officer Young's knowledge, the suspect vehicle's lights were still blacked out.

Officer Young advised that they continued southbound on Riverside until they reached the intersection of Riverside and Buoy Street where the suspect vehicle proceeded to turn left (eastbound) on Buoy from Riverside Blvd. and then into a cul-de-sac of Ebttide Ct. Officer Young advised that Officer La Porta transmitted that this was a dead end.

Officer Young stated that the suspect vehicle pulled into the grass area of a residence in Ebttide Ct. He stated that he pulled in directly behind the suspect vehicle while Officer La Porta pulled in directly next to the suspect vehicle, attempting to pin in the driver of the suspect vehicle.

Officer Young stated that he observed a subject exit the vehicle from the passenger side but did not know exactly where in the vehicle the suspect had come from because it happened so quickly.

He described the suspect as a male Hispanic with a white t-shirt, white cap and blue pants. Officer Young stated that he advised radio that he was now in foot pursuit southbound Buoy to Northshore. Officer Young stated that at this time he does not recall seeing the suspect with anything in his hands as they were in pursuit.

He directed them to turn left (eastbound) onto Bayou Ct. to cut the suspect off; however, the suspect hit the first fence of a residence immediately to the right heading into Bayou Ct. Officer Young was still in foot pursuit of the suspect at this time. He observed the suspect to clear the first fence and attempting to clear the back fence. Officer Young stated at that time he made the decision to attempt to cut the suspect off by going back around the west side of the residence. It was at that time that he heard shots fired. He believes that he heard eight shots fired.

Officer Young stated that at the time that he heard the shots fired he was with Officer Don Davis (K9 unit) who had responded to the area to assist him in his foot pursuit. He asked Officer Davis where the shots were coming from and Officer Davis pointed in the direction of Buoy Street.

Officer Young stated that he believed that somebody had shot the suspect he had been pursuing.

He ran around to Buoy Street from Northshore and observed Officer La Porta on Buoy Street standing out by himself. He ran up to Officer La Porta and asked him what had happened. Officer La Porta advised him that he had just shot that guy, pointing to a subject on the ground.

Officer Young stated that he observed a male subject lying face down on the ground with his hands beneath his body. He did not observe the subject to be moving.

Officer Young stated then at about that time Officer Chapman had arrived at the scene and was handcuffing the suspect.

Officer Young stated that he went back around to the area of Bayou Ct. and directed the Star Unit (Helicopter Unit) who had responded to the area to assist. Officer Young stated that Officer Davis (K9 Unit) advised that his dog was alerting in the immediate area. Officer Young stated that he was then directed by someone (who he does not remember) to return to the scene where Officer La Porta was. Officer Young stated that he was later advised that Officer Davis had gotten the suspect in custody taken from a garbage can. Officer Young stated that at some point he had been asked if he could identify the suspect that he had been pursuing. Officer Young stated that he was certain that he could identify the clothing that the suspect was wearing, explaining that the blue pants, specifically, were remarkable and that they appeared to be the "windbreaker" or "warm-up" style.

Officer Young stated that when he was taken to the squad car to possibly identify the suspect that officer Davis had taken into custody, as soon as he saw the pants he immediately recognized them as being the same ones that he had observed on the individual fleeing from him minutes earlier. Officer Young stated that the suspect had apparently taken his shirt off.

Officer Young stated that he was not with Officer Davis at the time that Officer Davis took the suspect who he had been pursuing into custody.

Officer Young stated that throughout the vehicle pursuit he was anticipating that the suspects would attempt to flee on foot. He

VICTIM STATEMENT:

LaPorta, Rick, badge 440
Sacramento Police Officer

06-02-94, 0315 hours, Detective Overton met with Officer LaPorta in interviewing room #5 located in the homicide unit. LaPorta had been brought to the police department by SPOA officials in regards to an officer involved shooting. Also in the interviewing room with Detective Overton and Officer LaPorta was Attorney Kasey Christopher Clark, with the law office of Mastagni, Holstedt and Shiurazzi, 1912 I Street, Suite 102, Sacramento, 446-4692. The following interview was both video and audio recorded. Officer LaPorta stated the following in summary. Officer LaPorta was not advised of any Miranda Rights. He has 7 years law enforcement experience, 3 yrs. with Garden Grove P.D. and 4 yrs. with Sacramento P.D.

Earlier (approximately 0006 hours, 06-02-94), at 29th Street and Meadowview, I saw a vehicle initially make a turn without using his turn signal and the turn was a wide turn. I ran the license plate over my computer. I then made a vehicle stop just north of Meadowview on 29th Street. As I activated my emergency lights to pull the vehicle over, the vehicle failed to yield to my emergency lights and the siren. The vehicle proceeded straight at about thirty to thirty-five miles an hour. About two blocks north from where I first activated my lights, the vehicle finally stopped. I could tell there were two occupants in the car.

I walked up to the car and the driver was revving his engine and was messing around with the ~~right~~ side of the steering column. At that point, I thought the vehicle was a stolen car due to his actions and the fact that the car was a newer vehicle (1985 Oldsmobile, license [REDACTED]). The driver then dropped the car into gear and drove away. I ran back to my patrol car and initiated a vehicle pursuit with my lights and siren. I made a radio transmission that I was now in pursuit.

VICTIM STATEMENT: LaPorta

After just a few moments, the suspect turned out the car's headlights as he continued to flee. I'm clearly thinking now that the vehicle is stolen. The vehicle proceeded northbound on 29th Street and was making sharp turns. I quickly got confused as to what street I was on, because I don't know that area that well. I think if I looked at the Thomas Brothers Map I can retrace the path that we took.

After going just a few blocks, the trunk lid of the vehicle popped open and remained open during the entire pursuit. The trunk lid kept flying all the way open and then bouncing back down. As a result, most of the time, my vision of the occupants actions were blocked and I could not tell what they were doing.

We then turned westbound on Loma Verde, then turned southbound on Meadowair. We then went eastbound on Twilight, and then southbound on 29th Street, and then eastbound on Elwood.

At 32nd Street and Elwood, the suspect drove his car up on the lawn and through the hedges of some house, and then back westbound on Elwood. The vehicle got ahead of me as it fled northbound on 29th Street, and I temporarily lost sight of them. At Torrance, I saw Officer Joe Young making a U turn in his police car and starting to pursue the suspect vehicle, which is now ahead of him. Young was pursuing the vehicle with me behind him as we went northbound on 29th Street with a top speed of about fifty miles per hour.

We then went westbound on 65th Avenue, and then southwest on Swift Way back over to Loma Verde. We then went southbound Loma Verde with speeds up to eighty miles per hour, and the suspect was blowing through several stop signs. Another car was northbound on Loma Verde, and the suspect's vehicle took this car head on in the opposing lane. The other car had to swerve out of the way to keep from striking the suspect vehicle. The suspect continued straight southbound on Loma Verde. He ran several stop signs. The suspect then went northbound on 32nd Street and then westbound on Torrance Avenue and then back to 29th Street. The suspect drove northbound on 29th Street to westbound Meadowvale. He then westbound Meadowvale and circled around on several of the streets before ending back up northbound on Loma Verde over to Florin Road. His top speed was about seventy miles an hour at this time.

Suspect then drove westbound on Florin Road and there was moderate traffic with some pedestrians on sidewalks. At Florin and Woodbine, he drove into the eastbound lanes of Florin Road and forced a car headed eastbound in the eastbound lanes to swerve over into the westbound lanes. The suspect then picked up speed in his vehicle to where he was going almost one hundred miles per hour. He ran every stoplight at 24th Street, 21st Street, Amherst Street, Freeport Boulevard, South Land Park Drive and the Greenhaven Drive.

He then turned southbound on Riverside and drove to Park Riviera and went through the stop sign at about sixty to seventy miles per hour. He continued southbound on Riverside and he was now driving on the wrong side of Riverside (center concrete divider separating the north and southbound lanes). A light colored Dodge Caravan was coming in his direction, and I think the Caravan was in the #1 lane or at least close to the center divider. I saw the Caravan swerve and go up onto the curb. I thought the suspect vehicle had actually struck the Caravan, because they were very close to each other. I then made a broadcast that the suspect vehicle had just committed a 245 (assault) on the Caravan. The suspect vehicle continued to flee, and as I passed the Caravan, I could now tell that the Caravan was not struck by the suspect vehicle.

Suspect vehicle continued southbound on Riverside Boulevard and then made a left eastbound turn onto Buoy Way. The vehicle then made a left northbound turn onto Ebbside Court. The vehicle drove to the end of the court and then pulled up on a lawn of a residence on the east side of the court near the end.

As soon as the suspect vehicle stopped, I saw the passenger door open. I don't recall seeing any other activity at that area of the car. The next thing I saw was the driver's door starting to open, so I pulled my police car up along side the driver's side of the suspect's vehicle (parallel), attempting to stop the suspect from exiting his driver's door and fleeing on foot. I pulled up along side the suspect's vehicle with a distance of about one and a half to two feet between his car and mine. The suspect was still able to open his driver's door, and he exited his car and then ran back towards the trunk of his vehicle. I also exited my police car and ran back towards the trunk of his vehicle.

As I go around the end of my police car, I see that Officer Young is away from his car and there's no passenger suspect to be seen. The driver suspect is now in the trunk and he's throwing items (out of) the trunk and also throwing items aside as he's rummaging through the trunk. I ran up to him and immediately grabbed his left arm at the wrist with my left hand. I felt at that point that he may have been going for a weapon. I've got his left hand, but he is still reaching in the trunk area with his right hand. My flashlight is in my right hand. I'm trying to pull him away from the trunk area, but he's resisting me. I told him to give up, let go, and that he was under arrest. He didn't say anything in response. He's just frantically digging in the trunk area.

Finally, he reaches up underneath the right back area of the trunk, and now I'm convinced he's going for a weapon. I'm getting scared. As I pull his arm away, he pulls it back towards the trunk area. I can't get him to stop from what he's doing. We've now fought for awhile. I started hitting him in the upper right arm and shoulder area with my flashlight, trying to get him to stop. I'm thinking that if I don't stop him, he's going to hurt me. I hit him a lot of times with my flashlight.

Finally, the suspect lets go of the trunk area, partially turns to his left and hits me in the mouth with something. He now partially lifts me up off the ground with his left shoulder and I'm against the trunk of his car. He then grabs my left hand with his left hand. He's pulling me with him and he's kicking me several times in the left knee. I don't have a hold of him, but he's now got a hold of me. I hit him some more with my flashlight, telling him to let me go.

He's holding his right arm away from me and I can't see if there's anything in it or not. He's got a hold of me and I can't get away from him. I go to hit him again with my flashlight, and then he grabs my flashlight with his left hand. I've now grabbed my flashlight with both hands and we're struggling over the flashlight until it

The suspect is still not saying anything and neither am I at this point. I'm just fighting for my life.

We then pull away from each other. He then turns and runs down the driveway of the residence towards the street and drops the body of the flashlight. I still can't tell if he's got something or not in his right hand. It's too dark and he's moving too fast for me to tell.

We then run southbound out of Ebbtide Court along the east side sidewalk. The suspect then cuts across a lawn and continues eastbound on Buoy Way, running along the north curb.

As we're running, I yell for him to stop and give up. He yells back something to the effect of, "Leave me alone, cop, or I'm going to kill you." I'm about fifteen feet away from him in pursuit. He's not running really fast, but he's still running. I still can't see what, if anything, is in his right hand. His right arm is moving back and forth as he's running, but not as much as his left hand. The way he is carrying his right arm, I think that there is something in it.

I'm real scared at this point. I went to make a broadcast update that I was in foot pursuit, but I couldn't get on the radio because Officer Young was broadcasting about his suspect. Now I'm just trying to keep up with the suspect and keep him in sight, waiting for cover to arrive.

VICTIM STATEMENT: LaPorta

As the suspect is running eastbound on the north side of Buoy Way on the sidewalk, he stumbles and falls to the sidewalk near a wood fence. When he falls, he's facing eastbound and both hands go down and out in front of his body. He starts reaching out with both hands like he's trying to reach for something, and with his right hand, he pulls it back towards his body as if he had grabbed something and was pulling it back towards him. It's too dark for me to see what, if anything, he grabbed. There is one street light, but it's behind me and I'm tired and I'm scared. I was running to US AIR OC GAS WHICH I WAS STOPPED FROM.

The suspect then swung around to his left on his buttocks and immediately extended both arms out in front of him pointed in my direction. His hands were together as if he had something in his hands. I couldn't tell if it was a gun, a finger or just what. His knees were pulled up towards his chest area. At this point, I was very scared, thinking that the guy was going to shoot me.

I then reached for my gun and he then yells to me, "Get away, or I'm going to shoot you." I'm now about four to five feet away from him. As I bring my gun out, I'm yelling for him to drop the gun, drop the gun. I'm now stepping to my right to get out of his line of fire, and I'm wondering why he hasn't fired yet. I'm expecting him to shoot any moment.

As I'm moving to my right side, I can see his arms tracking me, still holding his hands together like he's got a weapon. I'm thinking that I've got to shoot him before he shoots me. I'm thinking that I've got to survive, so I shot him. Initially, I thought I fired ten rounds. I fired all of the rounds as fast as I could. I fired all of the rounds right at him.

The suspect then fell to his right side and as he was falling with his arms still extended and his hands now coming into a beam of light from behind me, I could now see his left hand index finger pointed towards me with his left thumb up. I couldn't see his other fingers because of the angle which he fell. ^{at} The time the suspect fell to the sidewalk, to the time I shot, no more than four seconds had elapsed.

At the point that he turned around with his arms pointed at me, there was no doubt in my mind that he had a gun.

After I shot the suspect, I did not attempt to give him any first aid. I held him at gunpoint until cover arrived. I could see several holes in his side and he was bleeding. Officer Anglesey arrived on the scene and (checked the suspect's pulse) and then handcuffed him.

I did not see either suspect throw anything out of the suspect's vehicle during their pursuit, however, there were many times when they could have thrown something out and I would not have seen it.

When the suspect was rummaging through the trunk of his vehicle, I remember seeing a jack and possibly a tire iron with a lot of clothes and other unidentifiable items. ONLY ONE ITEM WAS THROWN OUT.

I would describe the suspect as follows:

A male Hispanic or Samoan, approximately twenty-five years old, 5'9"/5'10", stocky build, perhaps 210 to 230 lbs., wavy curly hair and a ponytail behind his head, possible mustache, initially wearing a black baseball cap with the letter "P" on the front, but it fell off,

I have complain^T of pain to my upper lip and my left knee is hurting me quite a bit. My back is now starting to hurt me, perhaps from all the tension. CSI officers took photographs of my injuries and my uniform out at the scene.

At 0432 hours, Detective Overton presented Officer LaPorta with a single black and white photograph of a male Hispanic. The photograph did not have any name visible on the photograph. LaPorta was informed that he was under no obligation to identify this picture as the subject that he shot because this photograph may or may not be the same subject. LaPorta then looked at the photograph and stated after about two to three seconds, "This looks a lot like him. I didn't see him that well in the face." Detective Overton then had LaPorta put his name and badge number on the back of the photograph.

Detective Overton then made arrangements for LaPorta to be transported home safely and he was offered a police chaplain to spend time with him if he desired, but it was refused at this point in time.

ON 6/3/94 OFFICER LaPORTA CAME INTO THE HOMICIDE UNIT OF THE SACRAMENTO POLICE DEPARTMENT AND REVIEWED THE ABOVE COPY OF HIS TRANSCRIBED STATED AS WRITTEN BY DET. OVERTON. [REDACTED] stated that when his cousin, Marco Ellsworth, picked him up they drove around in South Sacramento in the area of Florin, Franklin and Meadowview until the officer attempted the vehicle stop.

On 6/2/94 at 1345 hours, Detective Overton and Detective Gardner made personal contact with ██████████ at ██████████. After explaining the nature of the contact, ██████████ stated that the vehicle in question (1985 Oldsmobile Cutlass Sierra, ██████████ license ██████████ actually belongs to ██████████ who is watching the vehicle while her parents are vacationing in Japan. ██████████ stated that ██████████ presently was not at home, but in class at ██████████ College. ██████████ made telephone contact with ██████████ and then relinquished the phone to Detective Overton. Detective Overton explained to ██████████ the nature of the contact and asked if detectives could meet with her at ██████████. ██████████ stated yes.

Detective Overton and Detective Gardner then met with ██████████ at 1417 hours at ██████████. ██████████ was waiting for detectives on the outside front bench.

Detective Overton explained to ██████████ that the police needed to conduct a search of her 85 Oldsmobile and that she was being requested to sign a consent search form. Detective Overton filled out the form and then read the form to ██████████. ██████████ asked what would happen if she refused to sign the form. Detective Overton explained to ██████████ that she had the right to refuse and that if she exercised that right, that detectives were going to submit a search warrant in hopes that the warrant would be signed and a subsequent search would be conducted. ██████████ stated that she had nothing to hide and then freely signed the form. The signing was witnessed by both Detective Overton and Detective Gardner. Detective Overton then took the following statement from ██████████ in summary.

PRELIMINARY CAUSE OF DEATH:

1355 hours, 06-02-94, I arrived at the Sacramento County Coroner's Office for the purpose of observing a post mortem examination on the subject, Marcos Ellsworth. The attending pathologist was Dr. Reiber.

The decedent was a male Hispanic. The subject appeared to be very well built in his physical appearance. The subject was observed to have a tube inserted into his mouth and throat and attached by a piece of tape that was wrapped around his head. There are also three small pads, two of which are attached to his chest and one to his lower abdomen. The tube and tabs are evidence of medical intervention by emergency response personnel and hospital personnel.

The victim is observed to have nine gunshot wounds. Per Dr. Reiber and my observations, there are observed seven entry wounds from the hip area to the shoulder area on the left side of the decedent. On the decedent's right side is also an entry and an exit in the chest area. There was then a grazing wound located on the right side of the upper abdomen area. Per Dr. Reiber, this numbers nine actual wounds.

Dr. Reiber states that there are six projectiles that are located inside of the victim. Two projectiles exited the body and one projectile apparently grazed the body, making a total of nine.

Per Dr. Reiber, it is apparent that the decedent died from multiple gunshot wounds to the upper torso. Dr. Reiber advises that a toxicology report would be available at a later date.

There were no visible wounds to the decedent's hands or arms which were made by a gunshot. There were no identifiable wounds to the decedent's face or neck area. CSI Officer Lyons responded and photographed the decedent's wounds prior to the postmortem examination.

ADDITIONAL CAUSE OF DEATH INFORMATION:

1100 hours, 6/3/94. I contacted Dr. Reiber at the Sacramento County Coroner's Office. Dr. Reiber was the attending Pathologist who conducted the postmortem examination on the decedent, Marcos Ellsworth.

I asked Dr. Reiber if he would advise me as to what was found in the postmortem examination that preliminarily led to the decedent's death. Dr. Reiber stated that he had removed six projectiles out of the victim's body. Dr. Reiber also stated that two projectiles had entered and exited the victim's body. Dr. Reiber stated that the subject's lungs, heart, aorta, liver, right kidney, spleen and intestinal area were struck by the projectiles. Dr. Reiber stated that major vessels were also struck. Dr. Reiber concluded that wounds to the chest and abdominal area, with the aforementioned organs being struck, led to the victim's death. Dr. Reiber advised again that the toxicology report could take anywhere from three weeks to six weeks.

I asked Dr. Reiber if any other projectiles or wounds were found on the victim that were not connected with this particular shooting. Dr. Reiber stated that the only thing that he found was a scar on the subject's left forearm which could have been an old gunshot wound sometime back. Dr. Reiber stated he didn't find any other visible wounds that were old in nature on the victim.

[REDACTED] stated that she was in bed when she could hear the police sirens on. She stated they sounded like they were far away so she didn't bother to get up. [REDACTED] stated she then heard someone yelling, "Stop or I'll shoot you." And also believes she heard someone yell, "Drop it." [REDACTED] stated there was so much commotion going on that it was hard to pick anything out for certain but that she did hear someone yell stop or I'll shoot you. [REDACTED] stated what followed after that was what she believes someone yelling, "Drop it." [REDACTED] stated right after that she heard the gunshots which were in rapid succession which she believes may be four or so but that's what she heard.

[REDACTED] stated after the gunshots, she got up and went to the front of her duplex window, looked out and saw a K-9 officer standing near the subject that was rolled over on it's stomach on the sidewalk. [REDACTED] stated that is all she had seen and heard in relation to the shooting.

DETECTIVE'S ACTIVITIES:

6/3/94 1610 hours.

On today's date, 6/3/94, at 1030 hours. I marked arrival at the Shanahan's Tow (7901 Carlton) to meet with CSI Officer Lee Yeager (CSI 16) who was processing the vehicle.

The suspect vehicle, a blue Oldsmobile, 4-door, [redacted] license [redacted], had been impounded on the night of this incident. Officer Yeager was in the process of processing the vehicle and had already completed inventory of the cab and trunk of the vehicle at the time that I arrived.

One of the items that he had recovered/inventoried out of the trunk of the suspect vehicle, was a large manila envelope with the name [redacted] written in black felt.

In the large brown manila envelope was a plastic baggy containing what possibly could be narcotics material. (A later Valtox Test administered by Narcotics Officer Kingsbury determined it to be Valtox positive for methamphetamine.)

In reviewing the inventory completed by Officer Yeager, I observed in the cab of the vehicle to be a pair of green thongs, possibly used by passenger [redacted] as indicated in his statement, as well as miscellaneous papers and debris.

The backseat of the cab of the vehicle also contained additional miscellaneous paper debris and one pillow.

I observed in the trunk of the vehicle to be several miscellaneous papers, some in the name of [redacted] with an address of [redacted].

Additionally, in the trunk of the vehicle were two leather coats. I also observed in the trunk of the car a partially full box of Crystal Geysler Water.

I had requested that K9 respond for the purpose of searching the vehicle for an possible narcotic material. There had been a delay in their response and at 1100 hours, K9 5 (Officer Osborne) responded with his partner Koda.

I advised Officer Osborne of the material that Officer Yeager had inventoried from the trunk of the vehicle.

Upon Officer Osborne having his K9 check the envelope, the dog immediately alerted. (See Officer Osborne's supplement)

Officer Osborne's K9 did a complete search of the vehicle for additional narcotic. (See supplements)

Officer Yeager completed the processing of the vehicle and subsequently booked the envelope containing the material later determined to be methamphetamine. (See CSI reports)

The release of impounded vehicle form was completed and the registered owner's copy was left with Shanahan's Tow. At 1500 hours, I spoke with [redacted] by telephone and advised her that the vehicle was ready for pickup. [redacted] is the daughter to registered owners [redacted] and [redacted].)

REEXAMINATION OF SHOOTING SCENE:

6-3-94.

1615 hours, I responded back to the shooting scene on Buoy Way for the purpose of reexamining the scene for any other possible evidence that might have been left behind due to darkness.

The sidewalk had been washed of the blood that was there previously left by the victim. Looking at the sidewalk, I observe what appear to be a ricochet in the sidewalk where the victim had been lying. The ricochet appeared to have what also looked like possible lead fragments imbedded into it. Examining this scene from where the officer was standing, the ricochet appears to be going in a northerly direction. This coincides from where the officer was standing when he fired his shots into the victim. The grassy area around the shooting scene was checked with metal detectors to ascertain, in fact, if the projectiles not found in the victim were lying about. After an examination with the metal detectors in the grassy area around the scene, it was found that no projectiles would be recovered.

CSI Officer Snow then photographed the ricochet and would diagram where it was located in relation to the shooting. Samples of the area around the ricochet in the sidewalk concrete area were taken by Officer Snow to be analyzed. CSI photographs and a sketch is available to show this particular find. No other articles of evidence nor any other ricochets were observed at the shooting scene area.

Note: The above grassy area was examined with two metal detectors. This search was conducted in an area of approximately 15' x 15', and was performed by Detectives J. Cabrera, R. Overton, S. McClatchy, Sgt. B. Mitchell and CSI Officer A. Snow. The search for other projectiles in this are was negative. This portion of hte supplement was added on 6/20/94, at 1945 hours, by Sgt. B. Mitchell, badge #3010.

I live at [REDACTED] On the night when all the shooting was going on we heard sirens approaching the neighborhood and we heard the shots fired. It sounded exactly like rapid gunfire between eight to ten shots.

My girlfriend and I had gone outside into the backyard. We were either already outside in the backyard or approaching the door at the time we heard the shots fired.

We could not see anything and never went out the front of the house at the time that this was all going on.

I'm sure that the time was somewhere between midnight and 12:30 because we had been watching Star Trek and it starts at 11:30 p.m.

All the shots that I heard fired all sounded like they were coming from the same gun and that there had not been an exchange of any gunfire.

DETECTIVE'S ACTIVITIES (DETECTIVE OVERTON):

On 6/3/94 at 1745 hours, Detective Overton met with Detective Cabrera, McClatchy and Detective Sgt. Mitchell at Northshore and Buoy Way. The purpose was for investigators to conduct a neighborhood canvass in search of any possible additional witnesses to this incident. Detectives split up with their assigned areas of responsibility.

Detective Overton subsequently contacted witness [REDACTED] at [REDACTED] Buoy [REDACTED], witnesses [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] at [REDACTED] Northshore and witness [REDACTED] at [REDACTED] Northshore. Detective Overton obtained their contained statements.

Detective Overton also attempted to reach the occupant of [REDACTED] Buoy, [REDACTED] Northshore and [REDACTED] Northshore. None of these residents were home, subsequently Detective Overton left a flyer requesting that they call the Sacramento Police Department to provide any information they may have.

Detective Overton then assisted Detective Sgt. Mitchell, Detective McClatchy and CSI Officer Snow in conducting a metal detector search and physical examination of an approximate ten foot by ten foot square area of lawn at the scene of the shooting on Buoy Way. Detectives were examining the lawn in hopes of finding spent slugs from Officer La Porta's handgun. The search was negative.

On 6/6/94 Det. Overton made a Request for Crime Lab Examination (DA-7 form) to have Officer LaPorta's handgun test fired and then the projectile compared to projectiles removed from ELLSWORTH'S body. The request also designated a comparison to be made with spent casings found at the scene to casing from the test firing.

Wednesday night (6/2/94) just after midnight, I was preparing to go to bed while my family was already in bed. I was in my bedroom at the southeast corner of my residence and while looking out my sliding glass door, I could see the police cars coming from southbound Northshore onto westbound Buoy Way.

I then ran into my living room and upon looking out my living room window I could see police cars coming eastbound on Buoy Way, also with their lights and sirens. All of the police cars were turning northbound into Ebttide Court. The police cars were going very fast. I could also hear a police helicopter flying overhead.

I then ran back into my bedroom and a few moments later I heard a suspect's voice yelling, "I'm going to shoot." I then heard the police officer yell out, "Stop, stop." I heard the police officer yell this more than twice but I'm not certain how many times I heard it. A moment later I then heard a minimum of five gunshots.

STATEMENT OF WITNESS:

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED]

On 6/3/94 at 1810 hours, Detective Overton made personal contact with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] at their residence. After explaining the nature of the contact, The [REDACTED] stated the following in summary:

Wednesday night at about 12:05 a.m. on Thursday morning, we were both in bed asleep. [REDACTED] is a light sleeper and she was awakened by the sound of police sirens and tires screeching in our neighborhood. [REDACTED] got up and looked out our front upstairs bedroom window to see what was going on. [REDACTED] then woke me up and we could both hear a police helicopter hovering overhead.

We both heard a young male voice say something like, "Stop" or "Halt." It was a one word statement said in a commanding but frantic tone. We then both heard four shots fired in rapid succession. As both of us looked out our front upstairs bedroom window, we couldn't see anything because the street was very dark. We were both afraid and a few minutes later neighbors started coming out of their residence. At one point we heard an officer tell these neighbors to go back inside.

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED] both said they heard some type of commotion just prior to the shooting and upon asking them to define what they meant by a commotion, they both stated that they heard some running and some other noises but could not be specific as to their nature. They then heard the one word command of stop or halt and then the shooting.

STATEMENT OF WITNESS:

On 6/3/94 at 1820 hours. I interviewed [redacted] at his residence regarding this investigation. The residence of [redacted] Ebbtide Court is the residence where the vehicles finally came to rest just prior to foot pursuits ensuing. [redacted] stated the following to me in summary.

[redacted] stated that he'd opened the front door to his residence to walk a friend out to his car. He stated that they were out in the front just as the squad cars were pulling into his yard. At the time that the squad cars had come to rest on his lawn, he was on the sidewalk and had opened the doors to his friend's car and had ducked down. He never saw the suspect's vehicle and he speculated that it was because the lights on the suspect vehicle were out and the only illumination was coming from the officer's car. (and the lights in front of his residence were not on).

[redacted] stated that as he was hunched down between the doors of his friend's vehicle, he turned around facing his residence and could see on the driveway in front of his garage door the officer and the suspect in a struggle. He had seen the suspect run across the yard and trip on something which he later determined to be the sprinkler head from his front yard. He speculated that this was how the officer was able to initially catch up with the suspect because the suspect had tripped.

[redacted] stated that he observed an officer in a struggle with the suspect in the driveway of his residence. He could see that the officer had one hand on the suspect's shoulder struggling with him and he had something, what he thought was a baton, in his left hand.

He described the officer as throwing his neck back and arching his back as if he had just been hit or he was trying to avoid being hit in the face. It was at this time that ██████████ observed the suspect to twist away from the officer and to take off running.

██████████ stated that as soon as he saw that the suspect was fleeing, he immediately turned and ran into his house.

██████████ stated that he could not tell exactly what was being said and what the suspect was yelling because of the sounds of the sirens that were going on right next to his ear.

He stated that when he was inside his residence the sirens continued for quite awhile. The sirens were finally shut off by officers that came into the cul-de-sac minutes later.

When he came out a few minutes later when there were several officers in front of the residence, he observed a baseball cap on the sidewalk, as well as a green thong.

██████████ stated that he only saw one suspect and one officer during this entire altercation.

STATEMENT OF WITNESS:

On 6/3/94 at 1830 hours, Detective Overton made personal contact with witness [REDACTED] at his residence. After explaining the nature of the contact, [REDACTED] gave the following statement in summary.

I was working late on Wednesday evening (6/1/94) and got off work at 11:30 p.m. I stayed at the office until about 12:00 a.m. I then came home and manually opened my front garage door. As I was starting to pull my car in the garage, I could hear police car sirens getting very close in my neighborhood. I stood in my garage looking out and then saw police cars with their emergency lights and sirens driving at a high rate of speed eastbound on Buoy Way.

About five to ten seconds later I then saw a male running eastbound on Buoy Way towards Northshore and then turning northbound on Northshore, then running across my front lawn eastbound onto Bayou Ct. The suspect I saw running is described as a male, possibly White, Hispanic or Asian, but not Black. He was in his twenties and approximately 5'8" to 5'9" in height. He had an average build and was wearing blue jeans with an unknown type shirt. I can't remember the color or style of his hair.

I cannot remember if I saw a police officer chasing him or not. I remember hearing somebody state something like, "There he goes" or "Get him."

A few seconds later there were two or three other police cars now speeding southbound on Northshore from Park Riviera. At this point, I was standing on my front lawn and I directed the police cars to turn eastbound on Bayou Ct. by giving hand signals. I stood on my front lawn near the intersection of Northshore and Bayou Ct. so I could make certain that the police cars turned the proper direction in order to capture the suspect that I saw running. While I was standing there watching their activities, I then heard three to five gunshots behind me on Buoy Way.

I did not hear any commands or anything being said whatsoever. When I turned to look in the direction of the gunshots, I could not see what was taking place because the residence at the northwest corner of Northshore and Buoy Way was blocking my line of sight (address [redacted] Northshore).

Once I heard the shooting, I decided to run back towards the front of my residence and take concealment behind some thick bushes near my sidewalk. I then decided to run inside my house to make certain that my family was safe. A short time later, I saw a male walk by my rear bedroom window and I'm now certain that it was a police officer looking for the original suspect that I saw run down Bayou Ct.

SUPPLEMENT REGARDING DAMAGE TO [REDACTED] ELLWOOD AVE.

6/15/94, 0830 hours, I noted in Officer La Porta's statement, that the suspect drove over a lawn and through some bushes in the area of Ellwood and 32nd Street.

0948 hours, I went to the above area and located skid marks and lawn damage to the driveway and front lawn of [REDACTED] Ellwood Ave.

I then made contact with the owner, [REDACTED]. I advised [REDACTED] of my purpose and that I would need to take some photographs of her yard and obtain a statement from her.

I took photographs of the house, driveway, lawn and broken bush. These photographs were later booked into the Sacramento Police Department Identification Section for processing.

I noted that [REDACTED] Ellwood Ave is a single family dwelling in a residential area. The residence is located on the [REDACTED] corner of 32nd Street and Ellwood Ave. I observed approximately 24 feet of single wheeled skid across the driveway to the lawn. This single skid mark was measured at the north curb line of [REDACTED], 75 feet west of the west curb line of [REDACTED]. Beyond the driveway was approximately 30 feet of damage to the lawn in two strips. The strips were the approximate width of a tire. One strip started at the lawn and the other was a continuation after the skid mark on the driveway.

On the east side of the yard, there was a row of hedges. There was a gap in the hedges with the approximate width of the two tire marks across the lawn. There was a juniper bush that had been broken in half. Any debris that would have been left by such impact had been removed.

Beyond the hedges (east side) there were no tire marks in the lawn.

While at the scene, I obtained a statement from the owner, [REDACTED].

1111 hours, I booked the photographs into the Sacramento Police Department Identification Section. They were logged under number 294M.

95 Path of Projectile: Through the skin and subcutaneous tissue of the posterior left
96 shoulder, the bullet penetrates soft tissue of the posterolateral left chest wall and enters 97 the left chest cavity through the posterolateral third interspace. The bullet perforates the 98 posterior upper lobe of the left lung and strikes the thoracic spine at the T5 level from the 99 left side. It appears that the bullet is lodged at this level.
100

101 Direction of Travel: The direction of travel through the body is forward, downward, and 102 left to right.

104 Recovery of Projectile: After removal of a segment of thoracic spine from the anterior
105 approach, the spinal canal is visualized at the T4 through T6 level. A penetrating fracture 106 of the fifth thoracic vertebra is seen on the left side involving the lamina and left side of 107 the vertebral body. A markedly deformed, mushroomed, large-caliber (consistent with 108 nominal .38), jacketed hollow-point projectile is recovered from the left side of the spinal 109 canal at the T5-6 level. The projectile is retained as evidence.
110

- 111 2. A gunshot wound of the chest is present.
112

113 Entrance: Present in the left axillary region of the chest is an ovoid to nearly circular 114 gunshot wound of entrance located 16-1/2 inches below the top of the head and 115 8-1/2 inches to the left of midline. The wound measures approximately 3/8 inch in 116 diameter and has a fairly uniform abrasion collar averaging 1/16 inch in width. The 117 abrasion collar is slightly wider on the posterior edge of the wound where it is slightly
118 less than 1/8 inch in width. No soot deposition or stippling is seen at the wound margins 119 or on the surrounding skin.

AUTOPSY

120 Path of Projectile: From the entrance wound, a bullet path continues through the 121 subcutaneous tissues and enters the left chest cavity through the bony substance of the 122 anterolateral fifth rib and adjacent intracostal musculature. The bullet then strikes the left
123 lung, perforates the lingula of the upper lobe, penetrates the heart through the right
124 ventricular outflow, and also lacerates the adjacent ascending aorta. After passing 125 through the heart and pericardium, the bullet track extends through the lower lobe of the 126 right lung and penetrates the right chest wall at the seventh rib level and the adjacent sixth
127 interspace musculature. The bullet is lodged under the skin of the right lateral chest wall 128 from where it is recovered.

130 Recovery of Projectile: Recovered from the deep subcutaneous tissues of the right chest
131 wall in a location approximately 19-1/2 inches below the top of the head and 6-1/4 inches
132 to the right of midline is a minimally deformed, large-caliber (nominal .38), hollow-point 133 jacketed projectile which is retained as evidence.

135 Direction of Travel: The direction of travel of the bullet through the body is left to right, 136 downward, and forward.

- 138 3. A gunshot wound of the chest is present.

140 Entrance: Present on the left lateral chest is a circular penetrating gunshot wound of 141 entrance located 21 inches below the top of the head and 11 inches to the left of the 142 midline. The wound is circular with a 5/16-inch diameter. A uniform circumferential 143 abrasion collar slightly less than 1/16 inch in width is present. No soot deposition or 144 stippling is seen at the wound margins or on the surrounding skin.

146 Path of Projectile: Through the skin and subcutaneous tissue of the lateral left chest wall,
147 the bullet penetrates through the ninth rib level posterolaterally, passes tangentially
148 through the dome of the left hemidiaphragm, lacerates the convexity of the spleen, 149 perforates the cardia of the stomach, and grazes the anterior spine at the T12 level. The 150 bullet then passes through the diaphragm and into the base of the lower lobe of the right 151 lung and extends upward through the right lung into the upper lobe. After exiting the 152 right lung, the bullet perforates the right chest wall through the anterolateral third 153 interspace and exits the body.

155 Exit: Present on the right chest is a lacerated gunshot wound of exit measuring 1/4 inch
156 by 1/2 inch in diameter with a roughly rectangular shape. This wound is located
157 15 inches below the top of the head and 6-1/2 inches to the right of midline. The wound

158 margins are everted and non-abraded. No soot deposition or stippling is associated with 159 this wound.

160
161 Direction of Travel: The direction of travel of the bullet through the body is forward, 162 upward, and left to right.

164 4. A gunshot wound of the left flank and abdomen is present.

165
166 Entrance: Present on the posterolateral left abdominal area in the flank region is an ovoid
167 gunshot wound of entrance centered 26 inches below the top of the head and 8-1/4 inches
168 to the left of midline. The wound measures 3/8 inch by 1/4 inch in diameter. The wound
169 margins are inverted and abraded with an abrasion collar roughly 1/16 inch in width 170 encircling the wound edges. No soot deposition or stippling is seen in association with 171 this wound.

172
173 Path of Projectile: Through the subcutaneous tissues and musculature of the left flank, 174 the bullet path enters the left upper quadrant of the abdomen, passes through several 175 loops of small intestine, traverses the lesser sac, perforates the duodenum and pancreas,
176 passes through the diaphragm, and enters the basal surface of the lower lobe of the right
177 lung. The bullet perforates the right lower lobe and is found free-floating in the lower 178 right chest cavity.

180 Recovery of Projectile: Recovered from within the lower right chest cavity is a markedly
181 deformed, mushroomed, large-caliber (nominal .38), jacketed projectile which is retained
182 as evidence.

183
184 Direction of Travel: The apparent direction of travel of the bullet through the body is left 185 to right, forward, and upward.

186
187 5. A gunshot wound of the left hip and abdominal area is present.

189 Entrance: Located on the lateral left hip is a circular, penetrating gunshot wound of 190 entrance centered 28 inches below the top of the head and 9 inches to the left of midline.
191 The wound is circular with a diameter of 5/16 inch and has fairly uniform abraded
192 margins with an abrasion collar of about 1/16 inch in maximal width. No soot deposition 193 or stippling is seen in association with this wound.

ELLSWORTH, Marco
AUTOPSY

195 Path of Projectile: The apparent path of the projectile through the body extends through 196 the subcutaneous tissues of the lateral left hip area passing through the body of the left 197 psoas muscle and penetrating the lumbar spine at the L3 level. After perforating the 198 spine, the bullet strikes and grazes the hilar surface of the right kidney, perforates the 199 hepatic flexure of the colon, and enters the liver on the inferior surface of the right lobe.
200 The bullet perforates the right lobe of the liver entirely creating stellate laceration on the 201 superior as well as on the inferior surfaces. The bullet is lodged immediately within the 202 upper end of the wound track within the right lobe of the liver.
203

204 Recovery of Projectile: Recovered from the substance of the right lobe of the liver is a 205 mushroomed, jacketed, hollow-point, large-caliber (nominal .38) projectile which is 206 retained as evidence. Fragments of jacketing recovered from along the wound path are 207 also retained.
208

- 209 6. A gunshot wound of the left buttock is present.
210

211 Entrance: Present on the upper outer quadrant of the left buttock is a circular, penetrating
212 gunshot wound of entrance measuring 3/8 inch in diameter. This is centered 30 inches
213 below the top of the head and 7 inches to the left of the posterior midline. The wound
214 has a uniform circumferential abrasion collar approximately 1/16 inch in width. No soot 215 deposition or stippling is seen in association with this wound.
216

217 Path of Projectile: Through the skin and subcutaneous tissue of the left buttock, the 218 bullet perforates the gluteal musculature, extends through the posterior left psoas near its 219 inferior end, and penetrates the first and second segments of the sacrum. The bullet is 220 lodged in the left posterior aspect of S2 near the S2 lamina.
221

222 Direction of Travel: The direction of travel of the bullet through the body is to the right, 223 upward, and somewhat forward.
224

225 Recovery of Projectile: Recovered from the depths of the left lamina of S2 is a deformed, 226 mushroomed, jacketed, hollow-point, large-caliber (consistent with .38) projectile which 227 is retained as evidence.
228

- 229 7. A gunshot wound of the posterior chest wall is present.
230

231 Entrance: Present on the left thoracic back is an ovoid gunshot wound of entrance
232 measuring 9/16 inch by 3/8 inch in diameter. The wound is centered 14-3/4 inches below

94-2175

233 the top of the head and 4-1/4 inches to the left of midline. The wound margins are 234 slightly abraded with an abrasion collar of less than 1/16 inch in width encircling the 235 edges. No soot deposition or stippling is seen in association with this wound.
236

237 Path of Projectile: Through the skin and subcutaneous tissue of the left back, a 238 tangentially oriented gunshot wound path extends through the musculature of the back in 239 a downward and rightward direction. The trajectory ends at the location of a bullet within 240 the subcutaneous tissues adjacent to the right eighth rib.
241

242 Recovery of Projectile: Recovered from the deep muscle of the right side of the back
243 adjacent to the right medial eleventh rib is a deformed and mushroomed, jacketed, 244 hollow-point, large-caliber (nominal 0.38) projectile which is retained as evidence.
245

246 Direction of Travel: The apparent direction of travel of the bullet through the body is 247 downward and left to right at a fairly tangential angle to the posterior surface of the body 248 without significant backward or forward angulation.
249

250 8. A deep tangential gunshot wound of the right posterolateral flank and lower chest wall is 251 present.
252

254 wound centered 23-1/2 inches below the top of the head and 4-1/2 inches to the right of 255 midline. The wound is 1-1/2 inches in length and up to 3/4 inch in width. The leading 256 edge of the wound has marginal abrasion about 1/16 inch in width. No soot deposition or 257 stippling is seen in association with this wound.
258

260 wound. The injury is centered 21-1/4 inches below the top of the head and 9-1/4 inches 261 to the right of the anterior midline. The wound edges are largely everted although there is 262 slight marginal abrasion at approximately 12 o'clock for a length of 1/4 inch and a 263 maximal width of 1/16 inch. No soot deposition or stippling is seen in association with 264 this wound. The surrounding skin shows violaceous contusion involving a 2-1/2 inch by 265 1 inch diameter.
266

268 penetrates external to the body cavities, extending upward along the lateral right chest
269 and exiting as noted above.
270

94-2175
ELLSWORTH, Marco
AUTOPSY

271 Direction of Travel: The course of the projectile through the body is left to right, steeply 272 upward, and forward.

273
274 Recovery of Projectile: A single fragment of white metal jacketing is recovered from the 275 soft tissues adjacent to the exit wound. No other projectile fragments are recovered. The 276 recovered fragment is retained as evidence.

- 277
278 9. Present on the right lower chest just above the costal margin, centered at midclavicular 279 line, is an obliquely oriented, graze gunshot wound. The wound measures 1-3/4 inches in 280 length and 3/8 inch in maximum width. At the edges of the wound are multiple serrated 281 tags of skin which are generally pointed toward the lower lateral end of the wound. The 282 lower lateral wound tip is well defined and has a slightly pointed shape. The upper 283 medial end of the wound is somewhat indistinct. There is violaceous contusion for a 284 width up to 3/16 inch encircling the lower and lateral edges of the wound. The edges of 285 the wound suggest a direction of travel of the bullet across the skin in a right to left and

RELEASE # 6-3

Investigation continues this morning into an officer-involved shooting that took place shortly after midnight today.

Witnessing a traffic violation, an S.P.D. officer attempted to stop a vehicle at 29th Street and Meadowview Road. The driver of that vehicle eventually pulled over, but sped away as the officer approached the car. A high-speed pursuit ensued, in which numerous officers attempted to stop the fleeing vehicle. This pursuit went through much of the Pocket Area of the city, finally ending in a cul-de-sac, Buoy Court.

There, the driver and passenger fled the car. The driver stopped at the open trunk of the vehicle, apparently retrieving something. While other officers pursued the passenger, the driver assaulted the officer who had initiated the pursuit and then began to run.

The suspect fell after running two blocks, made a motion as if picking up something that had fallen and then assumed a "combat position," clasping his hands together in front of him as he sat on the sidewalk, extending his arms and resting his forearms on his knees.

At this point, the suspect repeated several times a threat to kill the officer. The officer drew his weapon and fired multiple rounds in rapid succession. The suspect was hit several times. He died a short time later at the UC Davis Medical Center. No weapon was found on the suspect.

The suspect has been identified as Marco Ellsworth, 31. His date of birth is July 7, 1962. He lived at 2905 38th Ave. The shooting is under investigation by the District Attorney's Office as well as the S.P.D.'s Homicide Unit and Internal Affairs Unit.

RELEASE # 6=7

THE FOLLOWING IS AN UPDATE ON THE INVESTIGATION INTO THE OFFICER-INVOLVED SHOOTING OF THURSDAY MORNING:

-- Officers conducting a consensual search of the vehicle driven by Marco Ellsworth on the night of the shooting have recovered approximately one-half pound of methamphetamine from the trunk of the car. The drugs were located in a brown envelope in the trunk. The search took place at noon today.

As you will recall, the officer involved in the shooting has stated that Ellsworth exited his vehicle after a pursuit, ran to the open trunk and began rummaging through the items there. A struggle ensued and Ellsworth ran. The shooting took place after Ellsworth had fallen, threatened the officer and assumed a position that suggested he intended to shoot the officer.

-- Contrary to initial reports, the officer fired nine shots at the suspect. We had initially estimated the number of shots at 10. Medical examiners have located nine wounds on the suspect and evidence at the scene indicates this same number of shots were fired.

For those of you who need either or both of these updates on-camera, I will be available for a short period of time beginning at 3:20 p.m. I'll meet you outside the Hall of Justice, 813 Sixth St.

Police officer kills unarmed man

By Bob Blattner
Bee Staff Writer

A Sacramento police officer shot and killed an unarmed man early Thursday after a high-speed chase that began with a minor traffic incident and ended with a fatal confrontation in which the officer said he fired in self-defense.

Officer Rick LaPorta was placed on administrative leave, standard practice following any officer-involved shooting. Four investigations kicked into gear Thursday to determine if LaPorta was justified in firing about 10 bullets at Marco Ellsworth, 31, striking him numerous times.

Ellsworth, with at least five felony convictions - including car thefts - and twice that many aliases in his past but no history of criminal violence, died on a sidewalk of the Pocket area's usually quiet Buoy Way.

According to authorities, his path had crossed LaPorta's less than a half-hour before, shortly after midnight, at 29th Street and Meadowview Road.

There, Ellsworth had taken a wide right turn into the wrong lane without signaling, said police Lt. Joe Enloe, who heads the Police Department's homicide unit and is leading the investigation into the shooting. LaPorta threw on his flashing lights to pull Ellsworth over, Enloe said.

Ellsworth, driving a 1985 Buick with his 18-year-old cousin as passenger, stopped quickly, Enloe said. But as LaPorta walked toward the Buick, Ellsworth took off, leading the officer and a growing posse of squad cars on a chase through the Meadowview and Pocket areas at up to 100 mph.

During the pursuit, Enloe said, Ellsworth ran red lights, drove the wrong way on divided streets, speeded down sidewalks with headlights out and forced at least three cars off the pavement.

While Ellsworth had criminal convictions, he was not on active parole. His cousin

Shooting: Chase almost called off by police

Enloe told police that Ellsworth took off because he had three traffic citations with a total bond of about $1,000.

Enloe said that at one point the officers monitoring the chase considered calling it off because of danger to traffic. But before such a decision was made, the fleeing vehicle "for some reason" slowed abruptly to safer speeds.

The chase ended when Ellsworth turned onto Ebbtide Court, a short, dead-end street. Ellsworth veered onto a lawn at the end of the cul-de-sac, LaPorta followed, and both cars tore up turf as brakes were slammed on, Enloe said.

Ellsworth's cousin bolted, with an officer from a trailing car in close pursuit. Ellsworth darted to his trunk, which had popped open during the chase, and he rummaged through it frantically, Enloe said.

LaPorta grabbed Ellsworth. Fearing the fugitive had snatched a weapon, the officer swung several times with a heavy flashlight, according to Enloe.

He added that Ellsworth then nudged LaPorta in the face, and after a short struggle over the officer's flashlight, which broke during the tug of war, took off on foot.

Ellsworth stumbled and fell shortly after turning the corner from Ebbtide Court to Buoy Way.

According to Enloe, LaPorta said he then saw Ellsworth reach for something inside his clothes and then assume the textbook shooting position - sitting, arms resting on bent knees, arms straight forward, hands clasped.

"He told the officer 'Get away from me, cop, or I'll kill you,'" Enloe said.

Enloe said the officer told Ellsworth to stop what he was doing, but Ellsworth repeated the threat.

LaPorta then fired a burst of about 10 bullets.

As Ellsworth collapsed, LaPorta reportedly said, the officer saw for the first time that the suspect was unarmed.

Within an hour, more than a dozen police units had congregated at the shooting site. Ellsworth's cousin was apprehended nearby, and released without charge.

Residents were questioned.

On Thursday, the nearby residents said they'd heard bits and snatches of the fatal confrontation on the dark street, some yells of "Halt" or "Stop," a quick burst of many bullets. Police said no one witnessed the full incident.

With Ellsworth dead, LaPorta remains the main witness.

Enloe said he had no knowledge of any complaints regarding LaPorta, who joined the Sacramento Police Department 4½ years ago after a couple of years experience in Southern California. According to Superior Court records, no lawsuits have been brought against LaPorta for improper behavior or use of excessive force.

No fewer than four investigations will examine Thursday morning's incident.

Enloe is leading the criminal investigation to find if LaPorta broke any laws in killing Ellsworth. Homicide

Sgt. Bob Mitchell said that investigation should be wrapped up Monday or Tuesday.

The Police Department's Internal Investigations Section will check to see whether department policies were followed. The department's general orders are specific as to what circumstances warrant pursuit or gunfire.

Two independent agencies will also conduct investigations.

The Coroner's Office will determine if Ellsworth's wounds are consistent with LaPorta's statements, and if any foreign substances in Ellsworth's blood might have influenced him in his ultimately fatal decision to flee.

Police Department spokesman Michael Heenan said Thursday evening that early results from the autopsy appeared consistent with LaPorta's version.

The District Attorney's Office will also try to determine whether the Police Department is investigating the incident objectively.

"Their job is to make sure we're doing our job right," said Enloe.

"Right now, we have no information that it didn't happen the way the officer said it happened," said Steven McKinney, chief investigator and spokesman for the District Attorney's Office.

While he refused to discuss the Ellsworth shooting specifically, Assistant District Attorney Tim Frawley said the key question in police shootings is not necessarily whether the victim was armed, but whether the officer had reason to feel endangered.

"These are split-second decisions,"

Police guidelines on car chases

See Metro Staff

The 15-minute, high-speed car chase early Thursday that began with a minor traffic violation and ended with a scuffle and a fatal shooting was nearly called off midway, Sacramento police say.

The deliberations on ending the chase were based on department policy.

According to the Sacramento Police Department's general orders, factors to be considered during a chase include:

■ "Does the offense warrant a pursuit?"

■ "Does the need for apprehension justify a pursuit?"

■ "Is the pursuit reasonable with regard to posted and safe speed limits . . . ?"

■ "The officer shall continually question whether the seriousness of the offense justifies such a pursuit."

The department's general orders state that firearms should only be used as a last resort, and in order to stop further violence.

Frawley said, adding that the DA's investigation could take weeks.

Drug in car when officer killed man

By Bob Blattner
Bee Staff Writer

Sacramento police retrieved about a half-pound of methamphetamine Friday from the trunk of the car Marco Ellsworth was driving before a police officer shot and killed him Thursday.

The discovery appears to answer two of the most puzzling questions about the Ellsworth shooting, which is the subject of four independent investigations. Why did Ellsworth, who was wanted at the time only for a few minor traffic violations, lead police on a 15-minute high-speed chase after being signaled to pull over for an illegal right turn?

And why did Ellsworth immediately rummage through his car's trunk when he was finally cornered by police in a quiet Pocket area cul-de-sac?

Officer Rick LaPorta, who scuffled with and then shot Ellsworth, told police investigators that he thought Ellsworth was searching for a weapon in the trunk. But no weapon has been found.

The methamphetamine, found in a brown envelope in Ellsworth's trunk, has a street value of about $8,000, said police spokesman Michael Heenan.

That amount of the drug could have translated into a prison sentence of at least two years for Ellsworth, a convicted felon.

Heenan said investigators had spotted the envelope in the trunk early Thursday and guessed that it contained money.

But police waited to retrieve and open the envelope until noon Friday, Heenan said, by which time the car's owner, an acquaintance of Ellsworth's, had approved the search. Heenan said two officers were present to collect the envelope, which will be dusted for fingerprints.

The incident that ended in Ellsworth's death began in the Meadowview area on Thursday, shortly after midnight, when LaPorta tried unsuccessfully to pull Ellsworth over for making a right turn into the wrong lane with no signal. LaPorta chased Ellsworth into the Pocket area at speeds up to 100 mph. Then, according to LaPorta, after a brief struggle and a short foot chase, LaPorta shot Ellsworth nine times after Ellsworth tripped, fell on a dark street and rolled into a textbook target-shooting position.

The officer said he feared for his life when Ellsworth repeatedly warned him, "Get away from me, cop, or I'll kill you." Ellsworth was unarmed, but LaPorta said the darkness obscured that fact until after the officer had fired.

The coroner's probe should answer whether Ellsworth, 31, was under the influence of drugs or alcohol at the time of his death.

Officer cleared in killing

DA: Unarmed suspect appeared to be threat

By Robert D. Dávila
See Staff Writer

The District Attorney's Office announced Friday that a Sacramento police officer was justified in fatally shooting an unarmed man who threatened to kill the officer in a pursuit last month.

The decision by prosecutors cleared Officer Richard LaPorta in the death of Marco Ellsworth, who was killed after an early morning, high-speed chase June 2 that began in Meadowview and ended on a dead-end street in the Pocket area.

"The circumstances confronting LaPorta clearly justify his use of deadly force," Sacramento County District Attorney Steve White said.

A detailed review of the shooting and the decision not to prosecute LaPorta were released Friday in a four-page letter to police from Assistant District Attorney Timothy M. Frawley.

The prosecutors' report was based on investigations by police homicide officers, a district attorney investigator and the Coroner's Office, Frawley said.

Police spokesman Michael P. Heenan said LaPorta, who joined the Sacramento Police Department 4½ years ago with two years of experience in Southern California, returned to active duty five days after the shooting.

Meanwhile, internal affairs officers are still investigating to determine if LaPorta's actions were consistent with department policies, Heenan said.

"The district attorney's report is an important part of the internal investigation," the police spokesman said.

The slaying angered relatives and friends of Ells-

Cleared: 'Ample grounds' for shooting

worth, 31, who was shot nine times by LaPorta. The victim's mother, Adrianna Romandia, hired two lawyers to investigate the shooting, and supporters held a candlelight vigil and protest on the steps of police headquarters downtown.

Efforts were unsuccessful Friday to reach Romandia; her lawyer, Rodney Shepherd; and Adam Solorio, Ellsworth's cousin who was a passenger in his car during the police chase.

According to reports by police, witnesses and the District Attorney's Office, the fatal confrontation began after Ellsworth made an illegal turn shortly after midnight at 29th Street and Meadowview Road.

LaPorta flashed his lights to pull over the Buick carrying Ellsworth and Solorio.

As LaPorta walked toward the car, Ellsworth sped off, leading the officer and a growing posse of squad cars on a chase through the Meadowview and Pocket areas at speeds up to 100 mph.

During the pursuit, investigators said, Ellsworth's car ran red lights, drove the wrong way on divided streets, sped down sidewalks with headlights out and forced at least three cars off the pavement.

He was overtaken when he drove onto a lawn on Ehbtide Court, a cul-de-sac in the Pocket area.

Solorio fled on foot and was captured hiding in a garbage can, Frawley said.

Meanwhile, Ellsworth ran to the car trunk, which had popped open during the chase, and rummaged through it frantically.

Believing Ellsworth was searching for a gun, investigators said, LaPorta struck him with a flashlight. Ellsworth struck LaPorta in the face, grabbed, lifted and kicked him, and seized the officer's flashlight, Frawley said.

During the struggle, Ellsworth fled and was chased by LaPorta on foot. During the pursuit, "Ellsworth yelled back words to the effect of 'Leave me alone, cop, or I'll kill you,'" Frawley said.

Ellsworth stumbled and fell, spun into a seated position and "held his arms outstretched as though pointing a gun at Officer LaPorta," who was five feet away, Frawley said.

LaPorta drew his own weapon and fired nine rounds after Ellsworth "tracked" the officer's attempts to avoid his aim, Frawley said.

LaPorta "had ample grounds to believe Ellsworth was armed and would attempt to kill him," Frawley said.

"The fact that Ellsworth was not armed with a deadly weapon ... does not undermine the outcome of this review. Officer LaPorta was entitled to rely on appearances."

SACRAMENTO POLICE DEPARTMENT
SUPPLEMENTARY INVESTIGATION REPORT

ORIGINAL

CODE: 187 PC

REPORT #94-45387

VICTIM:

NARRATIVE SECTION

INFORMATION RECEIVED FROM CAMPBELL POLICE DEPARTMENT:

On 8/16/94 at 1415 hours, Detective Overton received a telephone call from Detective David Rauschhuber, Campbell, CA Police Department (408) 866-2179.

Detective Rauschhuber stated that the Zenith Wire Wheel Company is located in their jurisdiction and awhile back they were the victim's of two commercial burglaries (report numbers 94-0645 and 94-2816). Detective Rauschhuber stated that the company hired a private detective in order to solve the crime. The private detective learned through his investigation that reportedly an individual by the name of Marco, who resides in Sacramento, was the mastermind and was personally involved in these burglaries. Marco subsequently brought a large quantity of stolen wheels to Sacramento where he subsequently placed them into storage at a public storage facility.

Detective Rauschhuber stated that Marco later was being pursued by Sacramento Police Officers and got involved in a shootout, whereby he was killed. Detective Rauschhuber wanted to confirm if a subject by the name of Marco had been shot and killed by Sacramento Police Officers after a pursuit. Detective Overton stated yes and gave the name of the shooting victim as Marco Ellsworth and this case number. Detective Overton explained to Detective Rauschhuber that there were no means of our department confirming whether or not Ellsworth had a storage facility rented in his name. It was explained to Detective Rauschhuber that the Ellsworth family was extremely bitter towards the Sacramento Police Department as a result of their son's death.

Detective Overton informed Detective Rauschhuber that this information would be written up and added to this report for possible future reference.

SUMMARY

Spent cartridge cases, Items 03-#1 to 03-#9, are identified as having been fired from the Sig Sauer pistol, Item 03-#10 (serial number [REDACTED]).

The spent bullets, recovered from the decedent at autopsy, are consistent in rifling characteristics with those of the submitted Sig Sauer pistol, Item 03-#10, and are consistent in design with the Winchester Silvertip® hollow point ammunition submitted with the pistol in Item 03-#11.

The spent bullets were not compared microscopically (for identification purposes) to the test-fired bullets. The test-fired bullets will be retained in laboratory storage, should the comparison be needed.

Autopsy samples Submission 02

Items 02-#12 to -#19 are projectiles recovered at autopsy from decedent Marco Ellsworth, Coroner #94-2175. Items 02-#12, -#14, -#15, -#16, -#17, and -#19 are mushroomed bullets that exhibit similar construction that is consistent with Winchester Silvertip® brand 9mm Luger caliber hollow point style ammunition. Items 02-#13 and -#18 contain petal fragments that are also consistent with this style of ammunition.

Spent Cartridge Cases Submission 03

Items 03-#1 to 03-#9 (SDP PR 134830, Items 1 to 9) are spent 9mm Luger caliber cartridge cases, all with the headstamp marking of "WIN 9mm LUGER".

They were compared microscopically to test-fired cases from the Sig Sauer pistol, Item 03-#10, and are identified as having been fired from this pistol.

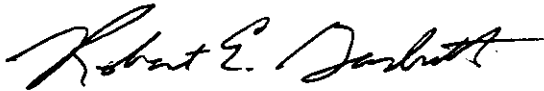

Sig Sauer pistol Submission 03

Item 03-#10 is a Sig Sauer model P226, 9mm Luger caliber semi-automatic pistol, serial number [REDACTED]. It is black, has a 4-3/8" long barrel, and an overall length of 7-3/4 inches.

The internal safeties are functional. The trigger pull is 4-1/2 pounds for single action mode of firing, and fourteen pounds for double action mode of firing. Re: Officer-Involved Shooting (94-45406, etc.)
SPD Officer Richard LaPorta (#440)
Victim Marco Ellsworth

Dear Lt. Enloe:

Reports concerning this matter were brought to our office by Det. Cabrera on June 21. I have now completed my review of the written reports, photographs, video and audio tapes. Additionally, I considered a report prepared by District Attorney Investigator Bill Muir who visited the scene of the shooting a couple of hours afterward and who monitored the interview of Officer LaPorta. I also received the toxicology test results and autopsy report. I am satisfied that I have been provided sufficient information to make a decision.

In this situation, Officer LaPorta observed Marco Ellsworth make an illegal turn at 29th Street and Meadowview in Sacramento. Ellsworth did not immediately comply with Officer LaPorta's attempt to pull him over, instead driving on several blocks before finally coming to a stop. As Officer LaPorta approached Ellsworth on foot, Ellsworth was revving his engine and doing something to the right side of the steering column. Before Officer LaPorta could make verbal contact, Ellsworth drove away.

Officer LaPorta, joined by other police officers, then engaged Ellsworth in a high speed pursuit with red lights and siren. Ellsworth drove with extreme recklessness, endangering many citizens by running stop signs and driving at high speeds in oncoming traffic lanes. Ellsworth was eventually overtaken when he drove onto a lawn in a residential area.

Despite Officer LaPorta's attempt to pin Ellsworth in his own car by stopping his patrol vehicle next to the driver-side door, Ellsworth managed to get out and go back to the open trunk of his car where he appeared to be looking for something as he rummaged through the contents. Officer LaPorta believed Ellsworth was looking for a weapon so he grabbed Ellsworth by the left arm.

Officer LaPorta told Ellsworth he was under arrest and commanded him to stop, but Ellsworth continued to violently resist and rummage through the contents of the trunk. Officer LaPorta became convinced that Ellsworth was going for a gun, and began to strike him with his flashlight. Ellsworth then turned away from the trunk and struck LaPorta in the face, grabbed ahold of him, partly lifted and kicked him, and then grabbed the flashlight. Officer LaPorta and Ellsworth struggled briefly over the flashlight, and then Ellsworth broke free. As he ran, he dropped the flashlight.

Officer LaPorta chased Ellsworth around the corner and across a lawn. He repeatedly yelled at Ellsworth to stop and give up. Ellsworth yelled back words to the effect of "Leave me alone, cop, or I'll kill you." Ellsworth was running in a manner that suggested to Officer LaPorta that he was holding something -- possibly a weapon -- in his right hand. At that point, Officer LaPorta intended to maintain visual contact with Ellsworth until assistance arrived and possibly to use his OC gas if he got close enough to Ellsworth.

Ellsworth stumbled and fell. While still on the ground, he spun around in a seated position, drawing his knees toward his body and holding his arms outstretched as though pointing a gun at Officer LaPorta who by that time had closed within five feet of Ellsworth. Thinking that Ellsworth was about to shoot him, Officer LaPorta drew his own weapon while yelling at Ellsworth to drop the gun at the same time as he moved to his right to evade a possible shot by Ellsworth.

Ellsworth appeared to "track" Officer LaPorta as he moved to his right, so Officer LaPorta fired nine rounds directly at Ellsworth. Officer LaPorta said he did so in self-defense, in order to avoid being shot and killed himself.

Ellsworth was struck by nine bullets. One was a grazing wound on the right side of Ellsworth's upper abdomen. Five entry wounds were observed between the hip and shoulder on Ellsworth's left torso. There was a single entry wound on the right side with an exit in the chest area, an entry wound on the left back and another on the left buttocks. Toxicology tests revealed that Ellsworth had .19 mg/l of methamphetamine in his blood.

No weapon was found on or about Ellsworth after the shooting. During the high speed car chase, the trunk of Ellsworth's car was flapping open. It is not known whether a gun may have fallen out of the trunk during that time.

Approximately one-half pound of suspected methamphetamine (Valtox test positive) was located in a search of Ellsworth's trunk.

Lt. Joe Enloe

There were no third-party eyewitnesses to the shooting itself. A neighbor, [REDACTED] heard someone yelling, "Stop or I'll shoot you." She also believes she heard someone yell "Drop it." immediately before she heard gunshots. Another neighbor, [REDACTED] heard sirens as police arrived at the scene. From inside his bedroom, he heard the suspect yell "I'm going to shoot" and Officer LaPorta yell several times, "Stop, stop" followed by gunshots. Yet another neighbor, [REDACTED] said he heard someone yelling something like "Stop it" or "Drop it" followed by gunshots.

[REDACTED] was a passenger in Ellsworth's car during the police pursuit. Except for asking Ellsworth to stop and let him out, he denied any conversation with Ellsworth during the chase. He said he assumed Ellsworth did not want to stop because he may have thought he had warrants out for his arrest. When Ellsworth finally stopped the car, [REDACTED] jumped out the passenger side and was apprehended hiding in a garbage can some time later. [REDACTED] did not see the shooting.

Analysis and Conclusion

Officer LaPorta was justified in attempting to detain Ellsworth after having observed Ellsworth's traffic violation. He was also legally justified in pursuing Ellsworth when Ellsworth attempted to flee. The manner in which the pursuit was carried out, while it may or may not raise a question in terms of police department pursuit policy, is nonetheless not a factor in determining the lawfulness of Officer LaPorta's decision to shoot.

California law permits the use of deadly force in self-defense if it reasonably appears that the person claiming the right of self-defense actually and reasonably believed he was in imminent danger of great bodily injury or death. Where peril is extreme and imminent and the necessity for action immediate, the law does not become overly precise in evaluating the conduct of the person assailed and say he is not justified in killing because he might have resorted to other means to secure his safety.

The circumstances confronting Officer LaPorta clearly justify his use of deadly force. He had ample grounds to believe Ellsworth was armed and would attempt to kill him.

The fact that Ellsworth was not in fact armed with a deadly weapon at the time he was shot does not determine the outcome of this review. Officer LaPorta was entitled to rely on appearances. He reasonably believed that Ellsworth may have armed himself when he rummaged around in his car's trunk prior to fleeing on foot. The way Ellsworth carried his right arm close to his body as he ran also suggested he was carrying something, if not a weapon, in his right hand. Witnesses who heard Officer LaPorta yell something like "Drop it" corroborate the conclusion that Officer LaPorta honestly believed Ellsworth was armed.

Lt. Joe Enloe

Officer LaPorta stated that after Ellsworth fell, Ellsworth spun around into a shooting position while seated. There is no reason to doubt that assertion by Officer LaPorta. Ellsworth had been extremely reckless during the vehicle pursuit. He physically assaulted Officer LaPorta when LaPorta grabbed his arm to detain him at the trunk of his car. The entire course of his conduct shows that he desperately wanted to evade apprehension and would resort to any means to succeed. Coincidentally, his conduct is consistent with what I know about persons under the influence of methamphetamine, as Ellsworth was.

Also, I note that Ellsworth's rap sheet shows (among numerous entries including two commitments to state prison) an arrest for battery on a peace officer which resulted in a misdemeanor conviction for obstructing a peace officer, and two other arrests for obstructing a peace officer, one of which resulted in a conviction. Another entry shows an arrest for felony assault. These rap sheet entries support the conclusion that Ellsworth was an assaultive individual with an antipathy to police officers. The entries thus tend to corroborate Officer LaPorta's account of what happened immediately prior to the shooting.

Lastly, the location of the bullet wounds to Ellsworth's body are consistent with Officer LaPorta's account of the incident. LaPorta was moving to his right as he fired his weapon in order to avoid being shot himself. He therefore was moving to Ellsworth's left. Two wounds were on Ellsworth's front side and the majority of the wounds were on his left torso. Two were on his back; those are consistent with the turning of his body in the course of the shooting itself.

In conclusion, I find that this shooting was justified. Accordingly, the District Attorney's Office will take no further action. Thank you for referring the matter for review.

Very truly yours,
