Mare Island & Jelly Belly Tour

Saturday, October 26 - $126

Join a local guide to explore historic Mare Island. The tour includes the stately Colonial Mansions of Officers Row. The inside of the Admiral's Mansion welcomes the tour with its brass nautical lamps highlighting the graciousness of the interior of the beautifully restored period home. St. Peter's chapel was built in 1901 and is the oldest naval chapel in the U.S. It contains one of the largest selections of Tiffany stained glass in the West. Learn about Farragut's founding of the Island in 1854. Stroll Aiden park and the Historic Core with the USS Vallejo Submarine Sail memorial. Visit the first dry dock built in 1870 on Mare Island. And the historical cemetery is the final resting place of the daughter of Francis Scott Key.

After touring on Mare Island, travel on to one of the most colorful spots in California - the Jelly Belly Factory! Enjoy a self guided tour along the elevated walk, stopping to enjoy videos on the actual production of Jelly Bellys. See the interesting interactive exhibits and games along the way. The tour ends in the Jelly Belly Art Gallery. Jelly Belly jelly beans are known for having a variety of colors and flavors, and talented artists have used these beans to craft awe inspiring mosaics. Enjoy free time for lunch and perhaps browse the Chocolate Shoppe for some of the finest hand-made caramel apples, marshmallow treats and, of course, chocolates.
